The Right Care

An emphasis on needed care

With the new law, the determining factor is no longer the care that a patient is eligible to receive, but the kind of care that the patient needs.

This means that enrolled veterans are our patients for most outpatient and hospital care that they need.

Under the Uniform Benefits Package, "need" means any necessary medical outpatient or inpatient care that will:

• Promote, preserve, or restore health,

• has been prescribed by a VA clinical care provider,

• is consistent with generally accepted standards of clinical practice.

Veterans must first be enrolled to receive care:

To receive healthcare under the new program, veterans must first be enrolled.

Veterans can obtain application forms for enrollment by visiting, calling, or writing to their nearest VA healthcare facility or veterans benefits office. Completed applications may be submitted in person or by mail.

A veteran who has received care from VA between October 1, 1996 and January 30, 1998 may have their application for enrollment automatically processed. They should check with their local VA location of care to be sure. Veterans may apply for enrollment at any time, even after October 1, 1998.

Some veterans are not required to apply...

Veterans are not required to apply for enrollment if they fall into one of the following categories:

• VA has rated them disabled with a service-connected condition of 50% or more.

• Less than one year has passed since they were discharged from military service for a disability that the military determined was incurred or aggravated in the line of duty, but that VA has not yet rated.

• They are seeking care from VA only for a service-connected disability.

...but VA is encouraging all veterans to apply

VA is encouraging all veterans to apply, even if they fall into one of these categories. Their application will help us plan more effectively to meet future healthcare needs, and will also help us provide better preventive care.

Enrollment means comprehensive care under the Uniform Benefits Package:

Enrollment means veterans are eligible for comprehensive healthcare benefits package of inpatient and outpatient services. Among these services are the following:

• Preventive service, including outpatient surgery

• Primary medical care, including outpatient surgery

• Diagnosis and treatment
