A letter from a Marine

As long as there are people such as yourselves there is hope for our brother and sister veterans.

I served with the Marines from '65 to '68. One tour in Nam, July '67 through August '68, then came home. That's when my real war began. Alienation from friends and society, disinherited by my family, divorce and the ANGER - RAGE!

Spent twenty two years as a Police Officer, 14 of those as a Sergeant. Spent a lot of time on the carpet "talking " to the Chief. Bad attitude I was told. Took the front door off of the old station in three pieces. Sent to a criminal psychiatrist for that one with three days medical leave. Spent three years going to a Police Stress Counselor;

Dairy Barn at the "NEW" Deschutes County Fairgrounds, Redmond, Oregon on Saturday, October 16, 1999. The Third Annual Hay and Straw King Contest will be held along with the Hay and Straw Fair. Last year there were 48 entries in the Hay & Straw King contest. The winners have bragging rights for the year!!! For producers with hay to sell, reserve your space, and bring in a bale or two of each hay lot you have for sale. There is a $35 fee per producer or feed businesses (OHFA or AFA members - free) to market your hay, straw, or feed at the Hay and Straw Fair. Come and showcase some of your best and maybe even some of your "not the best". Last year there were a lot of potential buyers, local and state wide, including hay and straw exporters. who came to the Fair. Producers marketing their product need to bring a bale or two of each lot of hay they wish to sell (and quality information is helpful, but optional). There will be hay and straw for sale during the fairgrounds!

For the Hay and Straw King Contest, there will be six classes of hay and straw to be judged; based on lab quality analysis and visual appearance. The classes are alfalfa, alfalfa grass, grass, cereal, cereal/legume, and grass seed straw. Lots within the grass and alfalfa classes are first. second, third, or fourth cuttings. There will be prizes awarded, to the Hay King Class Winner, along with a plaque, and a COHGA cap (last years Alfalfa Hay King winner won approximately $500 in prizes).

Producers need to bring in one bale of each cutting of each hay they want to enter on the day of the Hay and Feed Fair; the bales need to be in place, ready to judge by 9:00 a.m. October 16th. The Hay Fair will begin at 10:00 a.m. and end at 4:00 p.m.

Entrants must have their hay quality samples to the OSU Crook County Extension Office by October First. The entry fee is $20 for OHFA and AFA members, and $25 for nonmembers, and payment must accomcommercial lot of hay, with 15 to 20 sub-samples taken, and combined, and placed into a zip lock bag for each class and lot. Information needed:

4. Name, Address & Phone #

The samples will be shipped to the Klamath Experiment station for quality analysis utilizing NIRS. Producers will receive a copy of their quality test results.

The day should be very educational to the producer, help to market our Oregon hay and straw, and very educational to both producers and the public. The Hay and Straw Fair and Hay & Straw King Contest is sponsored by the Oregon Hay and Forage Association, Oregon Ag Fiber Association, and the Oregon State University Extension Service.

For more information on the Hay Fair or the Hay King Contest and to reserve space call the OSU Crook County Extension Office at (541) 447-6228
