Native American Business Alliance convention on tap

The Native American Business Alliance Convention 2000 is scheduled for July 10-12, 2000 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn. Michigan

Bringing the Circle Together

This convention will provide an opportunity as unique as the native culture itself. Imagine a convention where you don't just listen to speeches, you participate.

· Meet one-on-one with representatives from some of the largest corporations in America.

· Sit in talking circles with other Native Businesses, Tribes, and Corporations to discuss topics of interest to you.

· Share your experiences and benefit from theirs.

· Learn how to do business with the large corporations of America at the same time you network with other Native Business owners.

· Take advantage of the opportunity to learn how Tribes operate, what they buy, and what

The New V A Service for those who served

VA Medical Center P.O. Box 1034 Portland, OR 97207

Phone: 800-949-1004 503-273-5289

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has changed the way we provide medical care to veterans. Now we can provide a comprehensive primary care based Health Care Benefits package to veterans 'enrolled' in the VA Health Care Plan. Enrolled veterans are now eligible for inpatient and outpatient services with the important addition of preventive and primary care. These services include such things as: diagnosis and treatment; rehabilitation; mental health and substance abuse treatment; home health and medi-

How do I apply for Primary Care enrollment?

Contact the VA Enrollment Office and asked to be assigned to a Primary Care provider. You will be scheduled for a health appraisal appointment, which consists of a physical exam, prevention screening any needed laboratory work and initial medication. You will be assigned a primary care provider at this time. All future appointments will be made with the assigned primary care provider.

Will I be able to get my medicine from the VA?

Yes, if you are enrolled; or if the VA rates you as having a service-connected disability of 50 percent or more, or if you are seeking care from VA only for a service-connected disability.

Should I give up my existing healthcare insurance if I enroll with the VA?

No, you aren't required to, and we don't encourage it. VA healthcare is dependent on the level of congressional appropriations, not on premiums paid by enrolled veterans. Veterans with private insurance or other public coverage such as Department of Defense Medicare, or Medicaid may find VA enrollment to be a good complement to their other coverage.

If I enroll in the VA, can I receive care anywhere in the VA system?

Yes, once enrolled you are part of a national healthcare system with approximately 1,100 service sites. Generally, you will receive your primary healthcare at the facility you have indicated as your preferred facility. For more specialized treatment, you may have a choice of facilities, which would be recommended by your primary provider. Whentraveling, you can get care at any VA facility.

I thought a veteran could be treated in a VA medical center only for service-connected conditions. Is that correct?

No. The VA may treat eligible veterans or non service-connected conditions, too.

Is the VA available to all veterans or just those who were in a war?

No. VA healthcare is available to all veterans who served honorably and meet the minimum length-of-service require-

What is the minimum length of service requirement?

For veterans who entered active duty before September 7, 1980 there is no minimum length of service requirement. However, veterans who entered active duty on or after that date must complete 24 months of continuous service.

Reservists and members of the National Guard called to active duty must complete the full period for which they were called to active duty. Members of the National Guard and Reservists whose only service was active duty for training purposes are not routinely eligible for VA medical care.

Does the VA only provide care for low-income veterans?

No. But some veterans may be charged a copayment for their care. This depends upon the veteran's family income, net worth and number of dependents. Most veterans who are not receiving VA disability payments are required to complete an income assessment each year to determine whether they will be charged a copayment.

I have health insurance; can I still come to the VA?

Yes. The VA will bill your insurance carrier for any care that is not rated as being service-connected.

Do I have to pay the deductibles my insurance carrier requires when treated at the VA?

No. VA does not require you to pay those charges. In addition, many insurance companies will apply VA medical care charges toward satisfaction of your annual deductible.

I am a veteran. Why would the VA bill my health insurance?

By law, the VA is required to bill health insurance carriers for treatment provided to veterans for non service-connected conditions. This means we must bill any health insurance plan providing coverage for you, including policies held by you or your spouse. To do this we need information about your health insurance coverage. Always bring your insurance card with you when you come to the VA, it provides most of the insurance information we need.

Does the VA charge copayments for Care?

Yes. Some veterans are required to make copayments for their care and /or Most non service-connected veterans and zero percent service-connected veterans are required to complete an annual Means Test. This is a measure of your family's income and assets.

How much are the copayments charged by the VA?

The medication copayments is $2 for each 30-days-or-less supply of medication provided to an outpatient for treatment of a non service-connected condition. If your income is below the limits set by law, you may be exempt from the medication copayment.

The Means Test copayment is for inpatient and outpatient treatment. The amount of the copayment changes annually.

There is also a Per Diem (Facility) copayment of $10 per day for hospital care, and $5 perday for nursing home care. This is a daily charge for care for veterans whose income and assets exceed the Meant Test thresholds.

Where does the money go that the VA collects from insurance companies and my copayment?

All money collected from health insurance companies and from your copayments is returned to the VA to pay for its programs for veterans.
