

Warm Springs Elementary School Christmas program & community bazaar

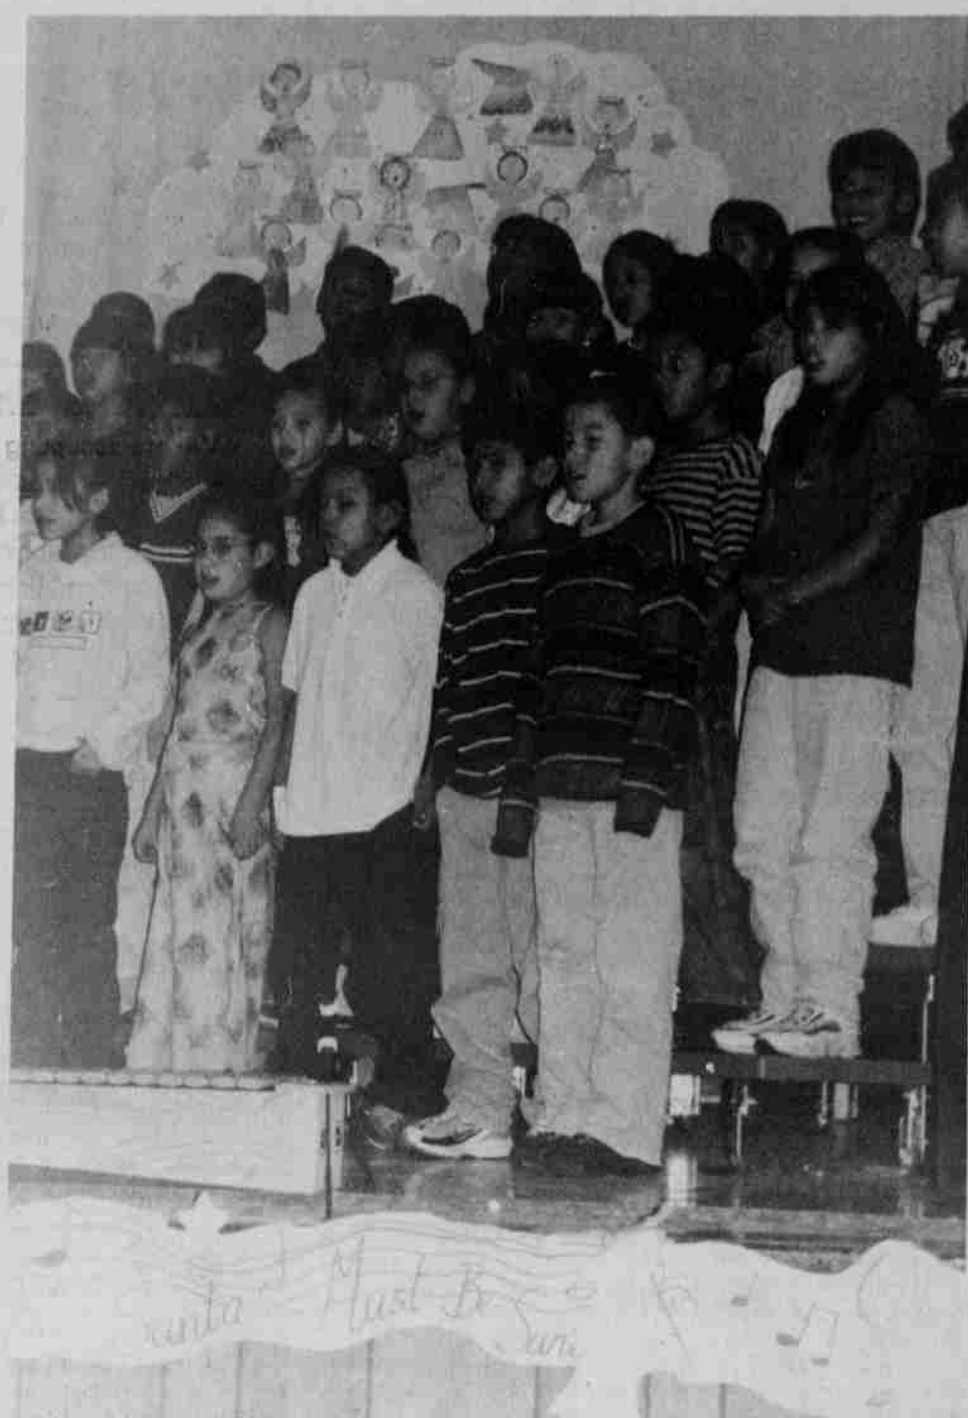

Arlita Rhoan, Sahaptin language teacher guides the second graders through a song in the Sahaptin native tongue.

These third grade young ladies were all dressed up to sing a quartet at the program.

Virginia Mitchell enjoys browsing the tables at the Bazaar. There was several items to choose from.

These fourth graders are waiting for their cue from the music teacher to join in at the right moment.

Trevor Suppah concentrates on playing the tune and getting the notes just right.

The third grade class makes a "joyful" noise for the parents at the Christmas concert.
