Veterans gathered in a Healing Circle held last month at the He-He Longhouse.

Veterans observe Memorial Day

By Sid Miller

Memorial Day, and known as Decoration Day here in Warm Springs. Years ago it was proclaimed as Memorial Day, to honor all those who gave their lives in battle and later on broadened to include family members. This day was set aside to honor soldiers who died during wartime.

Today the younger generation may have no idea or understanding of what Memorial Day really means. Today Memorial Day is just a three-day weekend, and perhaps looked as a kick off of all the summer holidays, the picnics, outings and travel.

There are still many here who really know what Memorial Day means. The veterans who have served their country all know what Memorial Day is: A time to reflect back and remember friends who have fallen on the battlefield. Young men making that supreme sacrifice in battle for our freedom today. Like a saying goes, "In time of war, everybody gave some, some gave all."

Today when I hear the Star Spangled Banner, I get a lump in my throat, as I remember friends who didn't come home from the battlefield.

Today there are people who don't believe in removing their hat, or standing at attention during the play of the National Anthem; this sickens me, because they never had to face any hardship of what all the veterans went through, and why the veterans respect the Red White and Blue, "Old Glory." They are proud to have protected the stars and stripes in time of war. All the veterans have heard this phrase, "Duty, God and Country."

We have veterans from World War II, Korea, Vietnam, Desert Storm or Gulf War, that will be observing the Memorial Day.

Veterans take pride for what they have done for our country. Veterans will gather in front of the old administration building on Memorial Day to pay tribute to fallen comrades and relatives that have passed on.
