Apology noted

To the people of Warm Springs, especially Judy Kalama, I am very, very sorry for what I did to hurt you. I never meant to do what I did. I was in a black out and hurt the one person I love the most in this world.

Judy please forgive me, I'm sorry for messing up your life and every-

Summer Commercial Sturgeon Setline Season

Wednesday, May 23, 2001 the compact states of Oregon and Washington agreed with the Columbia River treaty tribes on opening the commercial setline fishery in the Bonneville and John Day pools. The harvest guidelines in The Dalles pool has been met and it will remain closed.

Summer Commercial setline season: Opens 6 a.m. on Friday, June 1, 2001. Only the Bonneville and John Day pools are open. Only setline gear may be used. The fishery will close 6 p.m. on Tuesday, July 31, 2001.

Area: Bonneville, John Day pool.
Restrictions: Hook size must be 9/0 or larger. Tribal fishers are encouraged to use circle-hooks and avoid J-hooks. All river mouth and dam sanctuaries remain in effect.

Allowable sales: The allowed sales during the summer sturgeon setline season will be restricted to sturgeon. Chinook and steelhead may not be sold.

Sturgeon size limit: Sturgeon between 4 feet and 5 feet in length may be sold commercially or kept for subsistence.

Sturgeon catch guidelines: The sturgeon catch guideline for the year for Zone 6 pools are as follows: Bonneville Pool, 1,300; The Dalles Pool, between 1,100; John Day Pool, 1,160, for a total guideline of 3,560.

Scaffold Fishery: The scaffold fishery remains open year-around. Scaffold catch of sturgeon maybe sold during open commercial fishing periods.

If you have fishing enforcement problems or need assistance or information day or night, contact the Columbia River Inter-Tribal Fisheries Enforcement Office, (541) 386-6363 or toll free (800) 487-FISH (3474).

one else's life that matter. I'm asking for forgiveness from the Kalama family and my own family, and the community. I am sorry, very, very sorry. Alcohol is no good. It messes up people's life and causes pain. It did for me.

Hurt and Sorry,
Michael Meanus

Fire Safety Beyond City Limits

A move from an urban center to a suburb or rural area requires you to rethink fire safety. First, you must be aware of special fire hazards near wooded areas. Second, geographic location may create longer response times for fire and rescue services.

If you live in the rural-urban interface, the point where homes meet combustible vegetation, you must increase your role to protect lives and property in your community beyond the city limits.

The United States Fire Administration (USFA) encourages you to practice the following fire safety steps in rural areas. Remember, fire safety is your personal responsibility... Fire Stops With You!

Fire Facts about Rural Living
Once a fire starts outdoors in a rural area, it is often hard to control. Wildland firefighters are trained to protect natural resources, not homes and buildings.

Many homes are located far from fire stations. The result is longer emergency response times. Within a matter of minutes, an entire home may be destroyed by fire.

Limited water supply in rural areas can make fire suppression difficult.

Homes may be secluded and surrounded by woods, dense brush and combustible vegetation that fuel fires.

Tips For Fireproofing Your Property

Keep lawns trimmed, leaves raked, and the roof and rain-gutters free from debris such as dead limbs and leaves.

Stack firewood at least 30 feet away from your home.

Store flammable materials, liquids and solvents in metal containers outside the home at least 30 feet away from structures and wooden fences.

Create defensible space by thinning trees and brush within 30 feet around your home.

Landscaping your property with fire resistant plants and vegetation to prevent fire from spreading quickly.

Post home address signs that are clearly visible from the road.

Provide emergency vehicle access with properly constructed driveways and roadways, at least 12 feet wide with adequate turnaround space.

Make sure water sources, such as hydrants and ponds, are accessible to the fire department.

Burning yard waste is a fire hazard. Check with your local fire agency on a non-emergency number for fire permit requirements and restricted burning times.

Protect Your Home

Use fire resistant, protective roofing and materials like stone, brick and metal to protect your home. Avoid using wood materials that offer the least fire protection.

Cover all exterior vents, attics and eaves with metal mesh screens no larger than 6 millimeters.

Install multipane windows, tempered safety glass or fireproof shutters to protect large windows from radiant heat.

Use fire-resistant draperies for added window protection.

Have chimneys, wood stoves and all home heating systems inspected and cleaned annually by a certified specialist.

Prepare Your Family
Know how to contact fire emergency services in your area.

Plan ahead. Make sure you and your family are prepared for a fire emergency.

Develop and practice escape and evacuation plans with your family.

Install smoke alarms on every level of your home. Test them monthly and change the batteries at least once a year. Consider installing the new long-life smoke alarms.
