

Resolution 4620 adopted by the House of Representatives

Resolution

House Resolution NO. 2001-4620, by Representatives Veloria, Pennington, Cairnes, Darnelle, Dunn, Hatfield, Fromhold, Conway, Schual-Berke, Murray, Kenney, Haigh, Simpson, Hunt, Eickmeyer, Ruderman, McDermott, Wood, Quall, H. Sommers, Miloscia, Edmonds, Dickerson, Santos, Edwards, Kirby, Van Luven, Lovick, Boldt, Tokuda, Fisher, Berkey, Doumit, Schoesler, D. Schmidt, Schindler, Roach, Crouse and Anderson

Whereas, The first known Hawaiian to have visited the Pacific Northwest was a woman named Winee, a personal servant to the wife of Captain Charles Barkley, who in 1787 stopped at the Sandwich Islands before he sailed to the Northwest; and Whereas, Other Hawaiians became curious with the Western visitors and their tales of distant lands, thus Captain John Meares took a chief named Kai'ana with him on a trip to the Northwest; and

Whereas, By the early nineteenth century when the fur trade was firmly established along the Northwest Coast, the Hudson's Bay Company was founded in 1821. The Hudson's Bay Company recruited Hawaiians to work in this industry and this became common practice; and

Whereas, The Hawaiians were trained as servants, mill workers, craftsmen, and fur traders, but it was their excellent canoeing skills that were used by the Hudson's Bay Company to explore and navigate the Puget Sound waters; and

Whereas, John Kalama, who is a direct Hawaiian descendant to

Queen Kalama, the wife of King Kamehameha III, left the Islands for the Northwest; and

Whereas, John Kalama was an employee of the Hudson's Bay Company in Vancouver, Washington, and married a Native woman named Mary Martin, a direct descendant of Chief Leschi; and

Whereas, Chief Leschi allegedly led an attack on Seattle on January 26th, 1856, after his mark mysteriously showed up on the treaty that put his people on reservations; and

Whereas, The town of Kalama and the Kalama River are both named for John Kalama; and

Whereas, Generations of the John Kalama family still live on the Nisqually, Quinalt, and Warm Springs Reservations;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington recognize the contributions of the Hawaiians to Washington state history, and celebrate the Kalama family who could very well be the only descendants of a Native American chief and the relatives of Hawaiian royalty who came to live in what was then known as the Oregon Territory; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington also recognize the research and documentation by Hale Halawai O Hawai'i for their work in bringing these stories forward, and bringing to our attention that the first documented Hawaiians lived and worked in King County in 1870 at a sawmill in Freeport, located on the Duwamish Head in West Seattle; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Co-Chief Clerks of the House of Representatives to the Kalama family and Hale Halawai O Hawai'i.

I hereby certify this to be a true and correct copy of Resolution 4620 adopted by the House of Representatives February 20, 2001.

Timothy A. Martin, Co-Chief Clerk, Cynthia Zehmdler, Co-Chief

Pi-Ume-Sha stick game results noted

Ten teams entered this year's stickgame tournament. Charles Andys' team from Yakama Nation won $2,000.00 for winning the tournament. "The Northenders," Travis Andys' team from Warm Springs, Oregon won $1,250.00 for second place. Third place and $850.00 went to Andre Picards' team from Lapwai, Idaho.

The Starr Stickgame Club would like to thank everyone who traveled here to play in the tournament or to play in the open games. We hope to see you all again next year.

We would like to thank everyone who donated items for the raffle and supported the Club by buying raffle tickets. We would like to thank Indian Head Casino, Tribal Council, Warm Springs Composite Products, Karnopp Attorney Enterprises for their donations, Shawna from Ding Ho's & the Fish & Wildlife Department from Warm Springs, along with the cash sponsors for their generosity.

A thank you needs to go to the cooks, Ramona Schuster, Radine Spino & Nettie Dickson who helped prepare the memorial dinner on Friday. The fish and dumplings was cooked and donated by Manny P. Calapoo. We would like to thank the singers who helped us open the stickgame shed prior to the meal. Big thanks goes to our friends who helped us put up the extension to the stickgame shed, Floyd Frank, Richard Yaw, James Holliday, and Martinez Charles. All of your help was appreciated.

On behalf of Sam Starr, I would like to thank everyone for his or her time and effort on making the stickgame tournament possible every year.

Orlando Doney
