

Danzuka joins new tribal enterprise

Sandra Danzuka has decided to take a job as office manager of the new enterprise that is promoting tribal economic development.

In taking the new job, Danzuka is leaving the Office of Information Systems (OIS), where she has worked for the past 15 years.

"I wasn't looking for a new job," Danzuka said of her decision to join the economic development enterprise. "This was something that came up, and I saw it as a challenge, and a chance to make a difference."

Warm Springs Economic Development Corp., which may change names to Warm Springs Ventures, will be opening a new office at the Plaza.

Tom Henderson is chief executive officer of the enterprise. He said that Danzuka is the perfect person for the job of office manager.

One of her projects - oversight of an Internet auction site for tribal members - will require a background in computers, said Henderson.

Having worked at OIS for 15 years, Danzuka certainly has the necessary computer experience.

Her new job will also involve work in areas that she is not quite so familiar with, such as financial work. This is one reason why Danzuka decided to take the economic development job. "I saw this as a chance to do something new," she said.

Her knowledge and skills with computers will be greatly missed at OIS, where she has been the network administrator.

When she first started at OIS, the Confederated Tribes had only four computers in its network. There are now over 500 computers, in all departments of tribal government.

One of things she will miss about her OIS job, Danzuka said, is the chance to be there as new technology comes on line.

The thing she will miss the most, though, will be the staff she has worked with. Many of the OIS staff have been working together for a long time, said Danzuka.

Deli opens at Simnasho

Store worker Yaht Frank has been learning to operate the new deli cooking equipment.

The Three Warriors Market in Simnasho has added a new deli area, serving chicken, JoJos, burritos, corn dogs and chicken sandwiches. In the Simnasho community, the opening of the new deli was a much anticipated event, said Yaht Frank, who works at the store.

The Three Warriors Market is open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Middle school hosts day of cultural appreciation
