Warm Springs baby scampers to derby win

As if with the intent of being Jefferson County's first baby of 1977, Grascila Estrada made a special appearance at 11:21 p.m. on January 2 -- a full month earlier than expected.

The 5-lb., 5-oz. girl was born to Marlene and Carlos Estrada of Warm Springs and is this year's Stork Derby winner.

Grascila spent the better part of her first 36 hours in an incubator, but by Tuesday the pretty and robust newborn was with her mother and on Wednesday they both went home.

Public hearing re: shopping center location

The Tribal Council has called a public meeting regarding site selection for the proposed Warm Springs shopping center.

Both the Tribal Council and the Land Use Planning Committee wish to gain the input of tribal members on this important matter, as the location of the shopping center will greatly affect its success, according to a market and feasibility study conducted for the tribes.

Letter to the editor

Mr. Sid Miller:

I have been trying to get some information on how I would be able to receive the Spilyay Tymoo. ...

I have a suggestion for you. I would like to see some pictures of our ancestors. I think everyone in the tribe would like to see and have a copy of our old ones that the youngsters should know as their people.

Maybe something like their picture, date of birth, their Indian name, and some of their life history.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,
Ira Charles Pete

Indian funds cut in 1977 EDA budget

The 1977 budget of the Economic Development Administration (EDA) shows a $4.27 million cut in Indian programs, including monies for planning.

Although the overall EDA budget will increase from just over $354 million to $360 million, each category of Indian programming will decrease.

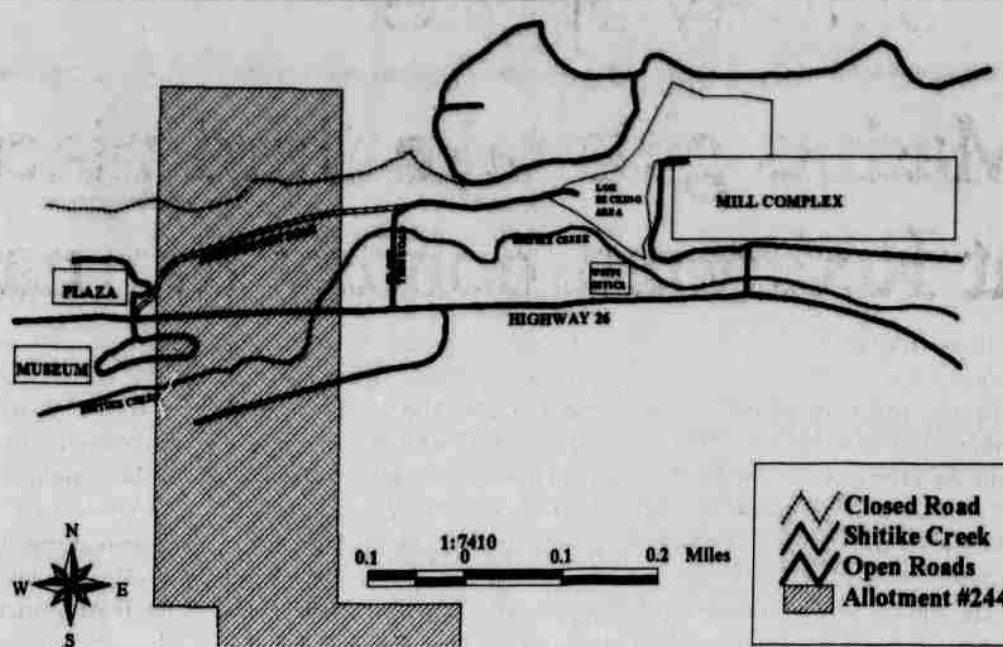

Ray Tanner of the EDA Indian Desk said, "I don't like what is happening. I think Indian people need that money."

Plan would shift access to mill

Transportation officials are looking at changing the road access to the Warm Springs Forest Products Industries mill.

An advantage of the change would be that the log trucks would no longer have to park along the side of the road in the morning. The trucks instead would have means to park off the highway.

BIA transportation officials will conduct a public meeting on the proposed change at 1 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 24, at Fire Management at the Industrial Park.

BIA and the Oregon Department of Transportation are working jointly on this project, which could be completed by the spring.

The mill access change would be done in conjunction with work that ODOT will be doing at the overflow bridge on the highway.

Anyone with questions or suggestions is encouraged to attend the Jan. 24 meeting. Written comments can be sent to: Tom Schuman, BIA Branch of Roads, P.O. Box 1239, Warm Springs, 97741. He can be reached at 553-2423.

OSU opens doors

CORVALLIS - Oregon State University will host a "Kaleidoscope of Colleges and Cultures" on Saturday, January 19, to give university-bound students of color a chance to experience the academic and cultural atmosphere of the OSU campus.

All activities are free to prospective students.

For details on the daylong event, including registration information and a schedule of activities, call the OSU Office of Admission and Orientation at 541-737-2626 or 800-291-4192.

Many school counseling and agency offices also have information.

Presentations will highlight the university's academic college and their diversity. Other sessions will include seminars focusing on financial aid, admission requirements and support services, as well as leadership and internship opportunities for students.

Adoption election to be held Jan. 21

An adoption election is scheduled for Jan. 21. This is a re-vote of the October 2001 election, which failed for lack of turnout.

There are 76 candidates up for adoption. In the October vote, all of them received more yes votes than no. However, in October only 857 tribal members cast their ballots, 230 short of the necessary 1,087 votes for a valid election.

Voting will take place at the Warm Springs Community Wellness Center, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Announcements

The Spilyay encourages organizations and individuals to send notices of events of interest to the Warm Springs community.

The preferred method of delivery is via e-mail to spilyaytymoo@wstribes.org - this saves staff members from having to re-type something you've already printed up, thus allowing us additional time for reporting, photography and other tasks.

You also may drop announcements in printed and/or computer disk format at the Spilyay offices, 1100 Wasco St. on the Warm Springs campus, or send them to Spilyay Tymoo, P.O. Box 870, Warm Springs, Oregon 97761. Our fax number is 553-3539.

Please feel free to call if you have story or photo ideas, questions or comments. Our phone number is 553-3274.

Finally, please heed our deadlines - Friday the week before publication for all submitted materials. Thank you.

Wrecks ...

"He will be there for a while, even after recovery he will go through rehabilitation," says Don Courtney, Warm Springs Chief of Police.

The driver and three passengers of the Chevy Silverado were transported to Mt. View Hospital where they were treated and released with minor injuries.

The Oregon State Police-Accident Reconstruction Unit was called in to assist with the investigation. The highway was closed for about 2.5 hours before one lane was re-opened.

Charges against Nufer are still pending investigation. Saturday, January 5, a head-on collision involving two tribal member drivers happened on Highway 3, milepost 5. Kevin Blueback was turning a corner and saw Richard Wolfe in his lane of travel. Blueback had no time to respond and was hit head-on.

Wolfe was airlifted to St. Charles, where he went through surgery for facial fractures.

Blueback was reported to have a broken ankle and a lump on his forehead. His son had a possible broken nose. They received treatment at Mt. View Hospital.

Cause of accident was due to alcohol used by Wolfe, according to the investigation.
