

Patt: New position is a natural step up

Also, they said, Patt has strong political relationships with other tribal leaders, governors, landowners and members of Congress.

Patt was elected to Tribal Council in 1998, and re-elected in 2001. He has served as Council chairman during that time. He said his intention was not to seek a third term. Instead, he intended next year to return fulltime to his position as the Confederated Tribes Natural Resources Branch senior policy advisor. However, he said, the CRITFC executive directorship is a natural step up from that job.

He said that he will make no sweeping changes at the commission: "The course was charted many years ago by the council members of the four tribes that formed CRITFC," he said.

There are many venerable associated with the commission: Delbert Frank Sr., Harold Culpus, Eugene Greene Sr., Levi George, Pete Hayes, Sam KashKash, "and the list goes on," said Patt.

In looking to the future at CRITFC, Patt said: "It's not likely that the biological or legal landscape will change anytime soon."

But, he said, "One issue that encompasses a lot of challenges we have is the renegotiation of the Columbia River Fish Management Plan, including harvest of course, but also production and rebuilding commitments."

Besides his work on the Tribal Council, Patt is a member of the Board of Regents of the Museum at Warm Springs, and has served as a member of the Kah-Nee-Ta board of directors.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Institute for Tribal Government at Portland State University's Hatfield School of Government. In 1991 Patt earned a bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Oregon. His hobbies are fishing, golf and photography.

Plenty of rodeo action at Tygh Ridge

By Sid Miller

Spiyay Publisher Emeritus

The Tygh Ridge Rodeo was held on May 10-11, and drew cowboys from all parts of the Northwest. The weather was ideal rodeo weather, and the fans had a good day at the show. Very good rodeo stock was provided by Phil Fillibin, which gave the cowboys all they could handle in the rough stock events. There were some good times turned in by contestants in the timed events.

The events included saddle bronc, bareback, bull riding, senior barrels, breakaway roping, tie-down roping (calf roping), team roping, wild horse race, steer wrestling, cow milking and century team roping.

Here are the results of each event. Saddle bronc: first, Brad Parrish; second, Ground Split; third, Ground Split. Bareback: first, Shawn Best; second, Ground Split. Bull riding: first, Shawn Best; second, Ground Split.

Senior barrels: first, Jenna Johnson of Warm Springs, time 17.125; second, Kimma Flammond, time 17.353; third, Shannon Adams, time 17.689; and fourth, Destry Begay of Warm Springs, time 18.315.

The girls breakaway: first, Liana Tom of Warm Springs, time 4.45; second, Shannon Williams-Thom, time 5.73.

Tie down roping (calf roping): first, Eric Watson, time 12.61; second, Melvin Joseph, time 15.65; third, Justin Tom of Warm Springs, 16.25; and fourth, Clint Bruisedhead of Warm Springs, time 18.85.

Team roping: first, Darrell Watson and Cort Herrera, time 6.8; second, Clinton Goodluck and Louie Goodluck, time 8.81; third, Eric Paul Watson and Marty Watson, time 9.2; fourth, Waylon Beamer and Cody Barney of Warm Springs, time 10.06; and fifth, Carson Badoni and Will Badoni, time 13.43.

Wild horse race: first, Vernon Squiemphen team of Warm Springs, 1.19.34; second, Tim Sohapp team, 1.48.89.

Steer wrestling: first, Clint Bruisedhead of Warm Springs, time 20.25; second, Casey Green of Warm Springs, time

25.58; third, T.R. Connelly, time 28.87.

Cow milking: first, Cort Herrera, time 29.55; second, Glendon Smith of Warm Springs, time 56.9.

Century team roping: first, Bob Joseph and Melvin Joseph, time 7.53; second, Cookie Fiander and Roger Fiander, time 9.03; third, Lawrence Crawler and John Lavallie, time 12.01; fourth, Joe Moses and Roger Fiander, time 14.83. That was what happened at the Tygh Ridge All Indian Rodeo, and good luck to all cowboys and cowgirls at your next rodeo. Upcoming event in the All Indian Rodeo circuit: Yakama Indian Nation Treaty Days All Indian Rodeo, June 6-8.

Volunteers needed for July 4

The Warm Springs Recreation Department will sponsor and host the 2003 Independence Day Community Celebration on Friday, July 4. This huge community event requires hours of planning and discussion to produce the successful end product the community desires and has come to expect.

For this to happen, the Recreation Department and the rest of the community need to start planning now.

Some of the events that the Recreation Department has so far been planning include the community parade, barbeque, and community events and games before the evening fireworks display.

The fireworks display is being coordinated by Warm Springs Social Services. Last year's successful Fourth of July celebration is attributed to much volunteer support and dedication during the planning process.

The Recreation Department would like to call on those individuals, as well as any other community member who wishes to have input on this year's events during Warm Springs' Independence Day celebration.

Any new ideas and suggestions are welcome and should be brought to the June 3 planning meeting in the Community Center Social Hall. The meeting is from 11:30 a.m. till 1:30 p.m.

Contact Carol Allison at the Recreation Department, 553-3243, for more information.
