

Teepee shadows

The cooler weather recently was a welcome change for most people. The heat wave of last week was becoming almost too much.

During the heat spell, temperatures at Kah-Nee-Ta, for instance, were higher than 110 degrees on some days.

Last week, as the temperatures were soaring, the noon sunshine cast strong shadows on this teepee, located at The Museum at Warm.

Dorothy Patricia "Pebbles" George

Dorothy Patricia "Pebbles" George, Indian name Tun-Mi, passed away on July 29. She was 53.

Pebbles was born on December 14, 1949 at Mountain View Hospital to parents Johnny George and Dora Jane Meanus.

Pebbles was a lifetime resident of Warm Springs, and an enrolled member of the Confederated Tribes. She attended schools in Warm Springs and Madras, and Chillico Indian School. She also attended Haskell Indian Junior College and Heritage College.

Pebbles was active in sports and many clubs while in high school. She was the first Miss Warm Springs, and a member of the Chatcolab, Inc.

Pebbles was a member of the Small Business Association, the Northwest Native Elvis Club, and the co-founder of the Tun-Mi Cancer House.

Her hobbies included headwork, women's pool league, being around friends and family, and working on having a cancer home built in Bend.

Pebbles is survived by her companion John Wahsise; children Joseph Smith, Angela Sampson and Johnnie Smith of Warm Springs, and Vernon Sappah of New Mexico; eleven grandchildren; siblings Janice Gilbert Gunshows of Warm Springs, Doris Adams-Taholah of Washington, David Hudson-Hoh River and Dennis Hudson Hoh-River, of Washington; aunts Hilda Culpus and Jeanette Yazzie of Warm Springs; Nancy Yallup of White Swan, Wash.; uncle Marvin Meanus of Warm Springs.

Pebbles was preceded in death by her parents, grandparents, four uncles, two aunts and her stepfather.

Corwin Joseph Howtopat

Corwin Joseph Howtopat passed away on July 19 of natural causes at Portland, where he resided. He was 44.

He was a flagman for the Oregon Department of Transportation at the time of his death.

Mr. Howtopat was born on October 30, 1958 in Redmond to parents Johnnie Howtopat and Carol Craig. A lifetime resident of Warm Springs and an enrolled member, Mr. Howtopat worked as a general laborer. He enjoyed beadworking, fishing, traveling and WWF wrestling.

Mr. Howtopat was raised by Johnnie and Rosie Howtopat, who preceded him in death.

Survivors include his two sons Corwin Michael and Kendall M. Bobb of Warm Springs; Corwin Howtopat of Canada, and Develon Howtopat of Taholah, Wash. and two daughters, Astra and Patricia Howtopat of Taholah; and one grandchild. Brothers and sisters include Samuel Kentura, Oswald Tias, Vernon Tias, Mariam Tias, Martha Anderson, Lillian Smith and Roberta Greene; also his mother, Carol Johnson of Warm Springs; plus numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, aunts and uncles. A dressing ceremony was held July 22 at Simnasho Longhouse, and burial was July 23 at sunrise at Simnasho Cemetery, where he was laid to rest next to his two brothers.

Lillian Kanine Hoptowit

Lillian Kanine Hoptowit, "Chow-e-se-pum," of Cayuse, died on July 13 at Yakima Medical Center after a traffic accident. She was 80.

Mrs. Hoptowit was born Sept. 15, 1922, at Gibbon Forks, Wash. in a teepee to parents Rosaline Wilson Tashwick and John Kanine. She was raised by her maternal grandmother "Chow-e-se-pum," and lived on the Umatilla Reservation her entire life. She lived the traditional life taught to her by her grandmother. She gathered roots and picked berries and prepared food for the winter. She practiced the traditional Washat belief which teaches the value of life on this earth and caring for oneself, family and the Earth that takes care of us all.

She married Anthony Gilbert Hoptowit and together they had 13 children, one whom died at birth.

She was elected to the Confederated Tribes of Umatilla Indian Reservation Board of Trustees, serving from 1968-1970. She served one term on the board because she felt that was sufficient time for her due to family responsibilities.

She was instrumental in starting a newsletter for on- and off-reservation tribal members to keep them informed of what was happening in their tribe.

She also proposed and implemented a fish and wildlife committee in order to address the big-game being killed on the reservation by the non-Indians.

She advocated for tribal shares for set net fishing on the Columbia River. She also fished the Columbia with her husband. She fished at Celilo Falls before The Dalles Dam was built in 1956. She was a cultural language specialist for her tribe, teaching the Walla Walla language. There were 23 Indian children in her last Cay-Uma-Wa language session on July 9, 2003, at Mission.
