

Museum displays Little Treasures

The Museum at Warm Springs has on display Little Treasures in the Changing Exhibits room. Little Treasures, on display through Jan. 19, features interesting and beautiful items from the museum's collection.

Below at right is a beaded shirt, of a style rarely seen anymore; the donation of the shirt is courtesy of the Red and Ruth Stovall collection.

Below center is a child's miniature Sally bag; donor was Lillie Heath.

COCC planning winter term

Winter term at Warm Springs Central Oregon Community College will begin the week of Jan. 5.

We will be offering four on site classes in Warm Springs this winter. Our math instructor John Shilling will return on Wednesday evenings, starting Jan. 7. He will be teaching Math 20, a four credit pre-algebra class.

This is the math course that most students are placed into after the placement exam. Topics will include ratios, proportion, perimeter and area, volume and integers. This course is a prerequisite for Algebra I.

If you have not taken any college math yet, or if it has been a few years, this is a must have course for you.

We will also be offering three community education classes here in Warm Springs. The popular series Tribes, Treaties & Truths will return, beginning on Jan. 8. High Lookee Lodge has graciously agreed to host our series there. Tribes, Treaties & Truths happens at noon, one Thursday a month. By calling 553-1182 in advance, participants can reserve lunch for only $3. Another option is to pack your lunch and attend.

On Jan. 8 tribal attorney Jim Noteboom will address treaty ratification and its effects, the Huntington treaty, and other related points. On Feb. 19, the Culture and Heritage Department will present a program on tribal languages and their importance.

March 11 is an open invitation to anyone who would like to discuss the role of BIA Boarding Schools: Past and Present. Our last program in the series will be held on March 25.

The topic will be the history of place names on the reservation. This series is offered free of charge as a community service by COCC Warm Springs. This lunch n' learn series was developed especially for Warm Springs and has not been held at any other COCC campus. But please do call to register for it, so we can keep track of our participation.

A new format will be tried this winter, with two of our classes offered on a Saturday. Both of the classes will be only one day, so register early to ensure your spot.

On Feb. 21 at 10 a.m. Dr. Vance Bonner will be in Warm Springs to instruct her popular "You CAN Change Your Body" course. This class fills up on a regular basis in Bend and we are very pleased to bring this opportunity to Warm Springs for the first time.

The course teaches a revolutionary technique of body alignment, posture, and stretching. Restore mobility, reduce neck and back pain, and pain resulting from accidents, bunions, scoliosis, and others. You will discover new strength from deep flexibility and learn to work with gravity instead of against it.

Dr. Bonner is the author of The Vance Stance and has taught her methods for 27 years to thousands of people.

The cost of this one-day seminar is $37. Space is limited, so register today.

Lakota descendant Leroy Steece will travel from LaPine to teach Flintknapping as a one-day seminar on March 13. This course is being offered in Warm Springs for the first time this winter.

This is a hands on course for anyone who would like to learn more about making traditional tools. Materials involved will include bull hide and obsidian and we will make dart points, scrapers, and arrow points. Leroy will also give instruction in the historical development of tools made from stone and other materials.

We will use traditional methods to create our own tools in class. Class begins at 9 a.m. and is one-day only. Register now to be sure you don't miss this one. Cost is $34.

Please remember that the college is closed from Dec. 22-28, but you can still register on-line during that time. To register for any Warm Springs classes, go online at www.cocc.edu/ce or call 553-1428.
