Answer is yes

Vernon Squiemphen, you have asked me first, but I had issues to deal with. You have patiently waited for which I am glad. And now that the issues are resolved, and we have made it through the fifth year, my answer is still Yes, I will marry you. I said I wanted to wait until Leap Year, which happens to be this year. Now my question back to you is, Will you marry me also?
I love you with all my heart, and you have been with me through all the good and bad, sad, happy and mad times. Our love has had all sorts of tests, but we have passed them all, with out a doubt.

There have been obstacles, and stumbling blocks, but that doesn't stop our love for one another. My children love you with all their hearts, and you are there for them, as they have been for you. They have a dad of their own, and Lennox has his PaPa. With all my love, LaDonna Raye

Tom O'Reilly- my husband and best friend, I don't say it often but I hope you know I love you. One more year and one more trial past. Let's make the best of it and enjoy life together this year, honey.

Chance S. & Topaz O. - my best boy and sweet pea. God has blessed me with both of you. I love you both with all of my heart. Mom.

Maureen E/Fara C- my two best friends, what would I do without you guys! Another year to work out and see miracles come to pass. Hope all works out according to His plan for both of you. In Jesus, Sammi.

Happy Valentines Day, Cheryl. And many more. Love, Dave.

More Letters to the Editor

Stray dogs

The recent article "Stray Dog Population Takes Toll on Reservation" was very aptly titled. The financial toll that will be taken if the program continues to be cut back will be massive. The effects of these cutbacks were clearly spelled out in the article. "We're not collecting as many strays to spay and neuter.....You can see the results."

I could mention Biblical quotes to support responsible pet ownership or quote from Oregon state laws about the same topic, but doesn't it just make simple financial sense to continue a program that had produced such impressive results?

Madras Animal Hospital was quoted as saying they neutered about 400 dogs and Dr. Rhen stated that now there are far fewer cases of parvovirus as a result of the efforts of Kaipoo and Nancy's program funds, along with the Daisy fund. It is economic disaster to say "We can't afford to spend that much time on dogs" when the resulting savings in disease and unwanted litters is staggering. The question is not can we afford to keep spending time now; the answer to this rhetoric is that if we don't keep control of the rez.

dog population now, it will obviously cost much more in the not so very long run. Please let people know how they can access the Daisy Fund and the other programs that do provide spaying and neutering. When it comes to spaying and neutering, if you are not part of the solution, you are contributing to the problem and that problem has large economic consequences.

Cody Yeager Club reopening

The Warm Springs Boys and Girls Club will be reopening this spring in the Warm Springs elementary school. The club is reopening with the support of the National Boys and Girls Club organization, the Warm Springs Housing Department, Warm Springs Social Services Department, and the Warm Springs Community Action Team. The new club will offer a variety of programs including activities that focus on traditional crafts and a brand new technology center.

The new technology center was set up at the elementary school the second week in January. The lab has eight lap top computers, one large printer, a scanning device, and a digital camera. The club will use the new lab for computer classes and will implement a national computer curriculum. The lab will also be a place for kids to learn to play and feel comfortable with the new technology.

There is an open invitation for any and all community members to participate in the Branch Advisory Counsel (BAC). In other communities the BAC serves as a funding and fundraising source for the Boys and Girls Club. However, in Warm Springs the BAC will serve as an advisory group, helping to direct and develop the club. The BAC meets at 4 p.m. every fourth Monday at the Community Action Team office in the Plaza.

The Boys and Girls club hopes to be a welcoming place for elementary school students and plans to engage kids in fun and educational activities. The Tribes, the Community Action Team, and the Boys and Girls Club and looking for funding to develop additional programs geared toward pre-teens and teenagers. It is our hope that additional programs and activities will be taking off this summer. This new club and the additional resources that are being organized and allocated for youth programs aim to address many of the issues that kids struggle with today. Community Action Team
