

New bridge adds Kah-Nee-Ta access

The new Culpus Bridge over the Warm Springs River by Kah-Nee-Ta is complete.

The project took nearly a year to finish, at a cost of $1.4 million.

The new bridge provides improved access to the east end of Kah-Nee-Ta, and can serve as a second main access to the resort and casino.

The bridge is located at the east end of Webster Flat Road, off Route 3 past Wolf Point.

This alternate route should improve driving safety for employees and guests of the resort during icy winter months.

The BIA provided the funding for the new bridge, designed by Anderson-Perry Inc. of LaGrande.

The tribal Engineering Department administered the project, with the tribal Construction Enterprise, as the main contractor, doing much of the work.

There is still BIA money left for bridge projects on the reservation. The money will be used to design and construct four more small bridges: the Upper Mill Creek Bridge, the

The photos are to be included in the commemoration program and a public display during the Pi-Ume-Sha Pow-wow weekend celebration.

If you have any photos, please deliver or contact Evaline Patt or Beulah Tsumpti at the Museum At Warm Springs, 553-3331.

Clinic staff to participate in anniversary

The staff of the Warm Springs Health and Wellness Center will join in the events marking the anniversary of the signing of the treaty of 1855.

On Wednesday, June 22, the staff will participate in sharing their heritage by wearing their Native clothing while on duty.

The staff will participate as a way of honoring the community of the Confederate Tribes of Warm Springs for their commitment to their traditional beliefs and customs.

In wearing the traditional clothing, the staff will pay homage to the ancestors, and pay respect the elders who carry on the beliefs and share their knowledge in friendship with all peoples.

The Health and Wellness staff invite the community to share with them, and see the different tribes and diverse nations in their Native dress.

Keep June 22 open on your schedule for the clinic. Stop by for a light healthy snack.

To place an advertisement in the Spilyay Tymoo, please contact Sam Howard at (541) 279-9973. Thank you.
