Golfers compete in Invitational tourney

Canadian golfer Jon Beaver scored a 151 to edge local golfer Kelly Wetcher by three strokes to win the Northwest Indian Invitational Golf Tournament at Kah-Nee-Ta High Desert Casino and Resort Golf Course Oct. 8-9.

Beaver won $475 for winning the gross (scratch scores) portion of the men's championship flight, beating Wetcher, who earned $325 for his 154 week-end score.

Another Canadian, Sharon Jack, won the women's gross flight with a 165 score, beating out Janell Smith, representing Kah-Nee-Ta, who finished with a 175. Jack won $350, while Smith took home $250.

Louie Pitt of Warm Springs, finishing only one stroke behind Beaver's score at 152, earned $450 in winning the senior men's gross flight, edging Frank Go-pher of the Yakama Reservation, who had 154 and won $325.

The field included 50 players from Canada, Washington, and California, as well as Oregon. Wendell Jim won $425 by the net competition (with handicapped score) in the championship round.

Roger Jacob of Yakama had the top gross score at 179, in the men's first flight to win $425, while Jeff Smith, also of Yakama, finished with 139 to win the net first flight to take home $425.

Verna Conner of Kah-Nee-Ta was the only player in the Ladies net division and won $350 for a 145 score.

Don Hodgson of Canada won the senior men's net flight with a $425, edging Warm Springs Chief Delvis Heath.

Office now open through Lunch

Casino discussion this afternoon

The regular Lunch and Learn speaking series at High Lookee Lodge has been re-scheduled for October.

The following are the new scheduling details:

On Thursday, Oct. 27, Lunch and Learn will be honored to have two gifted speakers: Lynn Davis and Rudy Clements.

They will talk about gaming and the new Bridge of the Gods Casino. The event begins at noon. You can reserve lunch for $3 by calling High Lookee at 553-1182.

Lunch and Learn wishes to thank High Lookee Lodge and their fantastic staff for hosting this series for Central Oregon Community College.

The Tribal Room is the perfect spot for these gatherings and all are welcome to attend.

COCC and Lunch and Learn also appreciate everyone's suggestions for topics and speakers. If you have an idea, call Cody 553-1428.

Next deadline for submitting items to the Spilyay is Friday, Nov. 4.
