Irene Loretta Towe

Irene Loretta Towe died April 10, 2006, at her home. She was 73.

Mrs. Towe was born April 12, 1932 in Warm Springs to parents Joseph and Gladys (Miller) Thompson. She was a lifetime resident of Warm Springs.

On Dec. 14, 1961, she married Jack Towe in Reno, Nev.

Mrs. Towe farmed, raised cattle and gathered sacred foods. She sewed traditional design clothing. A wife and mother most of her life, she was known as an immaculate housekeeper. She supported all of her children, nephews and others by transporting and cheering them on at boxing matches, rodeos, basketball games and other activities. She was baptized at the Warm Springs Presbyterian Church.

She worked as the head cook for the Boulder Corral Cattle Camp, and served in various tribal government and Jefferson County offices. Some of them included: the recreation committee, education committee, range and agriculture committee, Farm Services of Jefferson County, and the election committee. Mrs. Towe shared her cultural life skills by teaching sewing classes of Wasco dresses, shirts, wingdresses, shawls, shirts moccasins and crowns, appropriate for the dancers of the Wasco tradition. Her passion to learn more led her to teaching the Kiksht language. She willingly shared her personal heirlooms and keepsakes with the Museum at Warm Springs.

Mrs. Towe is survived by her husband, Jack of Warm Springs; sons Tony and Randy Boise, both of Warm Springs; 14 grandchildren; 11 great grandchildren; mother, Gladys Thompson of Warm Springs; sisters Lola Sohapp, Chris Scott and Marcia Minthorn, all of Warm Springs; brothers Rico and Dennis Thompson, both of Warm Springs.
