Fire and safety adds position

A new position has been created at Fire and Safety and is being filled by a current employee.

Troy Thom has worked for Fire and Safety for four years as a firefighter/EMT, and will continue to do so—with a couple added responsibilities.

Now Thom will serve as the Public Information Officer (PIO) as well.

"Basically my job is to release information to media on large scale operations," Thom said. "The position acts as a buffer between the command structure and what's going on."

In the past that duty was placed upon other staff members, giving them added responsibility. "The chief was fielding tons of phone calls and tons of requests for information from various media sources," Thom said.

"It frees his time up on a situation to do what his job is," he added.

The position isn't one that has just been created spontaneously.

"It's one of those positions that fire departments have. It's not something that has been created just for us," Thom said. "Redmond, Madras, everyone's got them. Our sole purpose is to release authorized information on inquiry."
