

Helpful event for Boys & Girls Club

The Boys & Girls Club operates out of the old Vern Jackson Home located on Wasco street between the Family Resource Center and Children's Protective Services.

In the summer of 2008 the Club changed from being under the Central Oregon Boys & Girls Club (B&GC) to being organized under the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs with help from the Portland Area B&GC to receive grants that are specific to Native B&GC Clubs.

The operating budget for the club comes from several sources: 42 percent is from the Tribe, while the other 58 percent is from grants, membership fees, generous donations, and fundraisers like the recent Be Great event.

The sun was shining on the golfers, which made a perfect day for the golf scramble. Foster Kalama and Adriel Pineda greeted guests with the beautiful sounds of their flutes.

Youth from the club signed the Lord's Prayer before the meal. Kaiwin Clements also displayed his hoop dancing skills for a pleased crowd.

The event was able to raise money through ticket sales, silent, and live auction items donated by businesses and individuals.

Those who weren't able to attend could purchase raffle tickets for a chance to win a very large Easter basket. Winners were delivered their baskets on Easter morning.

The event in its second year continues to improve and raise the funds needed to operate the growing Club year-round.

"Summer Programs will start the day school is out," says Club Director June Smith. "Parents have to work and we understand that there is a need."

Nearly 3 years for fatal crash

(AP) - A Warm Springs man was sentenced to nearly 3 years in prison after pleading guilty to criminally negligent homicide and driving under the influence of intoxicants in a January car crash involving a train.

Clarence Ray Bryant, 31, pleaded guilty and was sentenced last week in the death of one of his passengers, 21-year-old Paul Miller of Warm Springs.

Police said Bryant missed a corner on a street near Metolius and his vehicle rolled for more than 100 feet before it landed on railroad tracks, where it was struck by a train.

Two other passengers survived the Jan. 15 crash.
