

Sidwalter home completely destroyed

Fire crews respond, but the structure was completely engulfed in flames. Duran Bobb/Spilyay

Fire crews in Warm Springs responded to a structure fire on the B-100 Road in Sidwalter just before 3 p.m. Monday afternoon. The home of Gloria Warner was engulfed in flames and burned to the ground.

"I was laying on the couch, and it sounded like something hit the side of the house," neighbor Nena Danzuka said. "Then I heard it again, louder. I got up and came to the door and thought 'Oh, my God! Not again!'"

Firefighters battled the flames with multiple engines, as enormous explosions split the air.

"It's terrible," Danzuka said, watching in the biting cold wind. "She's been through a run of bad luck lately, both of us have."

Warner lost her husband on May 20, when his vehicle left highway 26 and crashed 12 miles east of Government

Camp.

"Over the summer, the (wild)fire came pretty close to our homes," Danzuka said. "We had to run. It's like her house was saved just to burn down later."

All occupants of the house evacuated before the call was made to Warm Springs dispatch. "She lived there with three boys who cut her wood," Danzuka said.
