

Ducks game for great attendance

Thirty-seven Native American students were awarded earlier this month for their great attendance at Jefferson County Middle School.

As a reward, the students were treated to an Oregon Ducks women's basketball game in the new Matthew Knight arena.

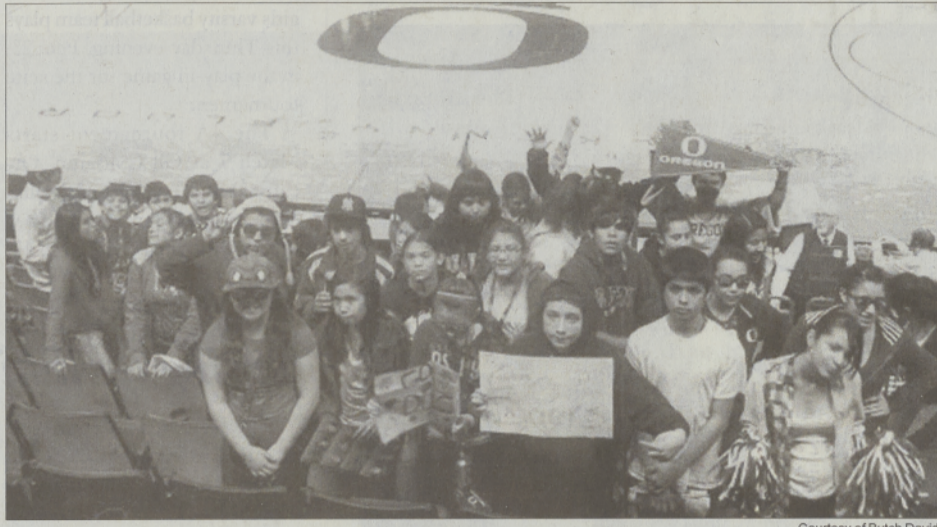

Students who attended the game were absent less than a day and a half of school. There were 85 days of school up to the event.

"Before we attended the game, the University of Oregon Native American liaison Lindsay Watchman took us on a tour of the campus," said Butch David, middle school liaison.

"At noon, we got the honor of touring the Matthew Knight Arena before the game started," David said. "What a great facility! Then after the tour, we went to the Many Nations Longhouse, where Lindsay had sponsored us a great lunch."

Lindsay then talked with the students about the opportunities of attending the U of O.

"After the presentation, we went to the game and watched Ducks beat Colorado," said

David. "The students had a great time, and an experience they will remember."

David and Watchman agreed they would like to see this become an annual event for the middle school students.

"We want to thank Howie Arnett and Warm Springs Composite Products for your donations," David said.

Lions hosting Warm Springs luncheon Thursday

There are many reasons to become a Lion. As a Lion you could help your community and gain valuable skills.

Make an impact on people's lives, locally and internationally. Learn to be a leader, and lead a respected organization. Energize your life, your community, and have fun.

Lions have a dynamic history. Founded in 1917, Lions are best know for fighting blindness—it's part of their history as well as their work today.

But they also volunteer for many different kinds of community projects, including caring for the environment, feeding the hungry and aiding seniors and the disabled.

The Lions motor is "We Serve."

Lions are a part of a global service network, doing whatever is necessary to help local communities. They are building, sharing, repairing, and having fun.

Are you interested in finding out more about being a Lion, or finding out why the nearby Crooked River Ranch Lions Club is having so much fun? They are serving many community members, and the club is the fastest growing Lions Club in Oregon.

If you are interested, then come to the Warm Springs Senior Center this Thursday, Feb. 23 for their 12 noon luncheon.

Ted Carlin, Crooked River Ranch Lions president, and other CRR Lions will do a presentation on, "What it means to be a Lion." And they will see if there is interest in starting up another Lions Club at Warm Springs.

Next deadline to submit items for publication in the Spilyay Tymoo is Friday, March 2. Thank you!
