About 700 guests attended the 2012 Honor Seniors Day of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs. "We had many first-time guests, and many veterans," said Wilson Wewa, of the tribal Senior Citizens Program.

"We had several speakers during the dinner," he said, "and they were ecstatic about the turnout, the organization, and how friendly our tribes are."

Thank you to the many volunteers, said Wewa. There were more people who volunteered this year than last year, he added. "That helped the day go by smoothly," he said.

Along with the tribes, there were many Warm Springs and Madras businesses that contributed to Honor Seniors Day. Thank you, Wewa said, to the Madras High School ROTC program and Spanish Dancers. The guests also appreciated the flute players from the MHS Culture of Warm Springs class. And it was nice to have the Early Childhood Education Powwow again this year.
