

Interim Public Safety general manager

Jim Soules, a former Chief of the Warm Springs Police Department, is now serving as the general manager of the Warm Springs Branch of Public Safety.

Tribal Council last week took action regarding the Public Safety general manager position, in a vote of five in favor, two abstain.

Mr. Soules began work this week, on an interim basis until a permanent general manager is hired. Mr. Soules served as the Prineville police chief for 22 years, before retiring in 2003. He later served 15 months as police chief in Warm Springs.

Mr. Soules, 67, has also served as president of the Oregon Association of Chiefs of Police.

Landfill: need for change

Other topics came up during the discussion: Illegal use of the Dumpsters at the longhouses; and the recurring abuse of the Sidwalter station. Barrels of oil are being left at the site, which becomes filled with trash within two weeks of being cleaned out.

Council directed staff to develop a series of recommendations for review in the near future.

Due to contamination caused by illegal dumping in Warm Springs, oil and other hazardous materials will not be accepted at the Dry Creek Landfill, or any transfer stations until further notice. Oil and other household hazardous waste need to be taken to Madras Sanitary Service.

Free vision clinic in W.S.

A free community vision screening clinic will be in Warm Springs this Saturday, June 9 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Community Center.

Warm Springs Optometry and the OHSU Casey Eye Institute will provide free eyes screenings to adults age 18 and older.

They will screen for glaucoma, diabetic retinopathy and macular degeneration. Call 553-2474 to schedule an appointment, or just stop by.
