

Among the '100 Who Made a Difference'

This summer The Oregon Quarterly—the magazine of the University of Oregon—is celebrating its One-Hundredth Anniversary. To commemorate its centennial, The Oregon Quarterly named 100 Ducks Who Made a Difference.

The magazine chose the 100 by asking readers for nominees. Nominees could include alumni, students, faculty, staff, administrators, and friends of the university from 1919 to the present. The standard for naming the 100 Who Made a Difference: "Those who, through grit, talent, compassion or creativity have made our world better."

Among the 100 Who Made a Difference: Class of '59 graduate Ken Smith of Warm Springs. Mr. Smith earned his Business Administration Degree from the U of O. He was just the second Native American to graduate from the university.

The Oregon Quarterly article continues: "Ken went on to serve as President Ronald Reagan's Assistant Interior Secretary on Indian Affairs, launching programs includes ones to help smaller tribes and Alaska communities."

For tribes Mr. Smith helped provide seed grants that stimulated new business and self-sustaining economic development.

Ken, a Wasco tribe member, also served as Chief Executive Officer of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs.

Another Native American U of O grad who made the 100 Who Made a Difference list is Roberta Conner, Class of '77, a keeper of tribal histories, who also served as board chair for the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian.

She is now the director of the Tamátslikt Cultural Institute

Free legal assistance

The Native American Program Legal Aid Services of Oregon is offering free civil legal services in specialized areas to eligible tribal members.

The next intake clinic will be this Friday, August 2 from 10 a.m. to noon at the Warm Springs Community Action Team office. Walk-ins are welcome.

2 youth summer events

Tribal youth ages 14-18 are encouraged to apply to participate in two outdoor experiences this month.

There will be a backpacking course August 26-28 on the Warm Springs Reservation; and a Deschutes Rafting Course August 26-30.

There will be a community gathering planned for all participants on August 25.

There is no cost to tribal youth participants, and registration is due August 16.

For more information on the registration process, contact TJ Foltz at 541-615-0142. Or email: taw.foltz@wstribe.org
