It'ukdi kadux,

I would like to congratulate all of the babies, youth, adolescents, adults and grandparents for their achievement and participation in the Equine Activities with the White Clay Holistic Wellness Program, May 29-30 at the Trauma, Healing and Resiliency Conference, at Elmer Quinn Park.

My sincere gratitude to Ricky Graybael, Bill Reynolds and Natural Resource workers for setting up the livestock panels, enabling the Equine event to happen. This would not have happened without your support and team work.

Thank you to Dr. John Spence, Lydell Suppah, Wynter Sky Smith, and Brianna Moore for your awesome team work, and keeping the stamina and positive energy flowing; also Jainaya Rowe and Emily Yazzie for the photos.

Again, a big Thank You to all of you for the awesome team work and positive support. This is what makes a Healthy Village Healthier—Tribes and families working together.

God bless all of you.

Equine Therapy will next present at Elmer Quinn Park at the Nine Tribes Prevention Conference, Wednesday and Thursday, August 14 and 16.
