

Heritage Month events at COCC

(from page 5)

There will be a Native American Flute Concert with award-winning musician James Greeley from the Confederated Tribes of Warm Spring. James will share his beautiful music with us on Wednesday, November 10 from 5:30 – 6:30 p.m. at Wille Hall, Coats Campus Center, Bend campus.

The History of the Seneca-Cayuga Nation of Oklahoma will be with William Tarrant, Culture and Historic Preservation director for his tribes.

William will share a brief history of how these bands of Seneca and Cayuga Indians came to be in the Oklahoma territory from the upper New York area.

"I am proud to present this event about my tribe," said Michelle Cary, COCC

Native American Program coordinator.

This virtual event will be on Tuesday, November 16 from noon to 1 p.m. See the site:

cocc.zoom.us/j/93016294700

Wilson Wewa is a member of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs.

Wilson is a Northern Paiute spiritual leader and oral historian for his tribe.

Wilson is the great-great grandson of both Chief Paulina and Chief Weahwewa.

Wilson's book, "Legends of the Northern Paiute," shares and preserves twenty-one original and previously unpublished Northern Paiute legends.

- Wednesday, Nov. 3, 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., Room 119, Prineville Campus.
- Wednesday, Nov. 17, 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., Wille Hall, Coats Campus Center, Bend Campus.
- These live, free, events are open to all. Donations to our FNSU scholarship fund are greatly appreciated.
- Masks and social distancing will be observed.

For more information: Michelle Cary mcary@cocc.edu or 541.318.3782

In advance of College events, persons needing accommodation or transportation because of a physical or mobility disability, contact Caitlyn Gardner at 541.383.7237. For accommodation because of other disability such as hearing impairment, contact Disability Services at 541.383.7583.

Presented by Gabriann Hall

Gabriann Hall is an enrolled member of the Klamath Tribes. She was born and raised in the Ft. Klamath valley and attended school in Chiloquin, Oregon.

Gabriann earned a Master Degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from Oregon State University and later a Master of Arts in Teaching.

Gabriann is a part-time instructor at COCC, teaching Ethnic Studies and Native American Studies.

Gabriann is the granddaughter of Marilyn Mitchell-Hall, a Haskel Indian School Survivor.

- Thursday, Nov. 4, Noon to 1:00 p.m., Wille Hall, Coats Campus Center, COCC Bend Campus.
- Monday, Nov. 8, 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m., Don Reeder Community Room, COCC Madras Campus.

These live, free events are open to all. Donations to our FNSU scholarship fund are greatly appreciated. Masks and social distancing will be observed.

For more information: Michelle Cary mcary@cocc.edu or 541.318.3782 cocc.edu/departments/multicultural

In advance of College events, persons needing accommodation or transportation because of a physical or mobility disability, contact Caitlyn Gardner at 541.383.7237. For accommodation because of other disability such as hearing impairment, contact Disability Services at 541.383.7583.

Your health insurance could be free.

Health insurance can expand your options and help pay for additional services so you can get the care you need. It covers a wide variety of providers and services including Tribal/IHS clinics and non-tribal providers, hospitals, pharmacies and more. If you're a member of a federally recognized tribe, you can sign up anytime, year-round. If you qualify, your insurance may even be free.

Do you qualify?

Tribal members are eligible for additional savings through the Marketplace. Find out if you're eligible for free insurance and payment assistance to eliminate your out-of-pocket costs:

- Preview savings at OregonHealthCare.Gov.
- Get free help at your tribal headquarters.
- Or call the Oregon Health Insurance Marketplace at 855-268-3767 (toll-free) and ask for free, local help.

Get started at OregonHealthCare.Gov

