This was the foundation made for the Commissary Business Incubator. The Warm Springs Community Action Team and the tribes had Kirby Nagelhout Construction create the foundation pad over the past several weeks.

COCC Madras celebrates 10 years

Central Oregon Community College this spring is commemorating a decade of higher education opportunities and community-focused partnerships at the Madras campus. The Prineville COCC campus is also celebrating 10 years.

The Madras campus, at 1170 E. Ashwood Road, will be on Saturday, May 14 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The day will include the annual Salmon Bake feast, held for the first time at the Madras site.

This is a traditionally prepared salmon lunch, co-presented by the First Nations Student Union, which also includes a silent auction to benefit the First Nations Scholarship Fund, together with dancing, drumming and vendors.

The doors to COCC's Madras campus opened in fall term of 2011, with construction supported by a voter-backed bond, together with generous land donations from the Madras-based Bean Foundation.

The Madras and the Prineville campuses have grown into essential learning hubs in the region, providing access, enrichment and a range of offerings and resources, with hometown class options, computer labs, meeting spaces and an adult basic skills program.

"As Central Oregon continues to grow, COCC is proud to be an active partner in supporting industry development, from health care to high tech needs," said Dr. Laurie Chesley, COCC's president.
