For internet

Dear Warm Springs business owners and community members,

We increasingly need reliable, high-speed internet (broadband) in Jefferson County, including the reservation.

The last 24 months highlighted that need. The county is out in the forefront of addressing this problem by funding a County-wide Broadband Plan. We'd like to finalize this plan in the next three months to move closer to improving our local broadband infrastructure. As you can imagine, better broadband will improve our quality of life, economic development, health care, education, and nearly every other aspect of our County!

We've had great participation so far, and want to hear from all businesses in the County about current internet speeds, how you are using the broadband, and why it's so important to your future.

So may I have 10-20 minutes of your time to take the Jefferson County Broadband Business eCheckup? I know that's a lot of time but this is an important issue and your input is really valuable figure out how to improve broadband services throughout Jefferson County. See the website:

Many thanks in advance,
Jeff Rasmussen, County Administrator.

Dr. Creelman named Family Doctor of the Year

Dr. Thomas Creelman recently received the honor of Family Doctor of the Year. The recognition comes from the Oregon Academy of Family Physicians.

People of Warm Springs know Dr. Creelman for his years of service as doctor, medical director and friend at the Warm Springs Clinic.

The Family Physician's award celebrates his commitment to community, service to his patients, and impact on future generations within family medicine.

Dr. Creelman graduated from the University of Washington School of Medicine in 1974. He completed his internship at Santa Clara Medical Center in San Jose, California.

After he became board certified in 1979, he began practicing with the Warm Springs Indian Health Service, and he has served the Confederated Tribes for over 40 years.

More than 20 of those years were spent as the medical director of the Warm Springs Fire and Safety program. During that time he had a major impact on shaping the education and professionalism of the paramedics, emergency medical technicians, and first responders.

Dr. Creelman provided expert guidance and perspective on the needs of rural clinical and emergency medical providers during the birth of the Cascade East Area Health Education Center. He was an active member and served as chief of staff in the Mountain View Hospital District.

Colleagues and patients shared Dr. Creelman's steadfast efforts to understand the tribes' culture, and to create a practice in which his patients feel like family.

Patients shared stories in which Dr. Creelman provided aid and comfort to them and their family members during challenging times. Many expressed awe in Dr. Creelman's abilities to take patients' emotions into consideration during every encounter and to explain medicine and treatment in friendly and approachable ways to youth and elders alike.

He leaves a lasting impact on Warm Springs IHS and family medicine. One colleague said, "Through the teaching efforts and direction of Dr. Creelman, Warm Springs IHS became a most sought after rural medicine, primary care rotation for medical students and physician assistant students, and nurse practitioner students primarily from OHSU, University of Washington as well as other institutions."

Others share Dr. Creelman's constant curiosity and desire to learn about medicine, the families he serves, and his community. His values of lifelong learning, compassion, and putting patients first have been imparted on those who he has taught over the course of his career.

Dr. Creelman recently entered retirement, though he continues to serve as an excellent role model for family physicians. And those he has taught continue to carry his legacy into their pursuit of health and wellness for Oregon.

The Oregon Academy of Family Physicians is the largest medical specialty society in Oregon and represents more than 1,700 family physicians, residents and medical students throughout the state.

The mission of the academy is to support family physicians in their pursuit of optimal health for the people of Oregon.

Grandparents on the mother's side are Lorena Vazquez and Domingo Olvera of Madras.

Heath Alexander and Mariah Stacona of Madras are pleased to announce the birth of their daughter Sophia Grace Alexander, born on June 7, 2022.
