

Grants, new exhibit for Museum at Warm Springs

Travel Oregon has awarded a $35,000 grant to the Museum at Warm Springs. The money will support the development of a marketing and community development plan, as well as support staff capacity with the addition of a communications and marketing contractor.

The grant to the museum was part of the $1.4 million overall awarded by the Oregon Tourism Commission, also called Travel Oregon. The funding is through the Travel Oregon Capacity and Small Project Grant programs to help destination marketing and management organizations, and federally-recognized Native nations with capacity building and targeted projects to enhance and expand economic impact through travel and tourism.

Funds were awarded to 45 organizations to develop and refine skills, systems, structures and strategies to help awardees successfully fulfill their missions and achieve outcomes that are more impactful.

Spring clean-up
Spring Clean-Up Day at

Edward Heath photography at museum in spring.

the Museum at Warm Springs will be on Saturday, March 18, with a reception to follow from 5 p.m.

The clean-up day is in honor of the museum's Thirtieth Anniversary, which the tribes are celebrating throughout 2023. Everyone is invited to the cleanup. Bring your rakes; garbage bags will be provided. Members of the museum board of directors, and Tribal Council will be on hand for the event.

You can RSVP to museum

Member show concluding

The Twenty-Ninth Annual Warm Springs Tribal Member and Youth Exhibit is closing Saturday, February 11. This will be your last chance to see an exhibition that has become an annual and much-loved Warm Springs museum tradition.

The exhibition combined Tribal member adult and youth art into one spectacular display celebrating the artistic excellence of Warm Springs tribal members. It includes generations of beautiful artistry in paintings, drawings, mixed-media, beadwork, weavings, video, photography and more, in two categories of Traditional and Contemporary Art. The Museum is open from 10 a.m. to Noon and from 1 to 5 p.m.

New exhibit in April

A new exhibit—An Eye for the Rez: Edward Heath Photography—will open in early April.

This exhibition will feature new photographs by the popular Warm Springs photographer Edward Heath, who last exhibited at the museum in 2016.

Since that time, Mr. Heath has experienced much critical acclaim for his work. Edward is the nephew of Warm Springs Chief Delvis Heath Sr.

Last month, the museum was awarded a $12,900 Ford Family Foundation grant to support this exhibition and will make possible a much-needed upgrade in the air conditioning equipment in the Changing Exhibit Gallery, where An Eye for the Rez will be on view.

The museum and tribes wish to thank the Ford Family Foundation for the grant.

The Museum at Warm Springs opened its doors to the public on March 14, 1993, and is celebrating its Thirtieth Anniversary through this year, with special exhibits and programs.

Built to Smithsonian Institution professional standards, the museum's mission is to preserve, advance and share the traditions, cultural and artistic heritage of The Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, Oregon.

Regular museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

Warm Springs Recreation invites departments to participate in a Valentine's Day office decorating contest. The theme is 'Show the Love NDN Style.'

Offices must be decorated by February 14 at 5 p.m. You can reach Recreation at 541-553-3243.

Art Show through Saturday

The Museum at Warm Springs Tribal Member Art Show is closing after this Saturday, February 11.

On display are items like the Judge's Choice Award in the Traditional Category, Beaded Medalion by Terry L. Stradley.
