

Leadership honor for youth

William Clements of Warm Springs, student at Heart of Oregon Corps YouthBuild, this fall earned a rare honor with the program.

Mr. Clements was chosen to attend the Thirty-Fifth Annual YouthBuild USA AmeriCorps Conference of Young Leaders in Washington, D.C. Participants like William were chosen to attend the leadership conference by their fellow students and local YouthBuild program staff.

Through the confederence, YouthBuild AmeriCorps students experienced the impact of YouthBuild’s global movement rooted in leadership, service, education, and job skills training. Participants further developed their leadership skills and network with current and former students from YouthBuild programs across the country.

programs across the U.S. that partner with opportunity youth—young adults between the ages of 16 and 24 who are neither in school nor employed—to build the skills and mindsets that lead to lifelong learning, livelihood and leadership.

Throughout the three-day

Washington, D.C., conference, participants explored this year’s theme, Connecting Communities. They broadened skills and deepened their knowledge to create positive change in their communities.

The young people shared their experiences with each other and participated in collaborative, interactive workshops on design thinking and asset-based storytelling.

By building connections with each other and YouthBuild alumni, participants realized the critical role they play in the extensive, global YouthBuild network, and brainstormed actions they can take to change their communities for the better.

The Heart of Oregon Corps YouthBuild program connects local Opportunity Youth ages 16-24 to education and employment as they learn construction or child and youth development skills and serve their communities.

Member Show at Museum

Elka-holics Wife (right), beaded set—headband, hair ties, cuffs, leggings and moccasins—by Jaycelene Brisbois ‘Lepukt’. Ms. Brisbois’ artist statement reads: I made this set for myself to commemorate all the hunting memories and miles I put in while chasing elk with my husband. I come from hunting families and I married a great provider, and this set is to honor them. I chose orange for the Every Child Matters campaign, as both my paternal grandparents are survivors. Like Elka-holics Wife at right, the Grass Dancer (below), mixed media by Tiffany Shaw, won Honorable Mention awards at this year’s Member and Youth Art Show.

Winter is time for youth basketball

It is youth basketball season in Central Oregon, and young people of the community are able to sign up now for a few different leagues.

The Warm Springs Community Wellness Center is taking sign-ups for Buffalo Sky Walkers youth basketball. Sky Walkers is now for youth in kindergarten through eighth grade. Fundamentals practices soon.

The Madras Aquatic Center Recreation District’s registration for youth basketball is open until noon on December 8, or when the league is full. It’s for pre-kindergarten, at least 4 years old, up to sixth-grade youth. You can enroll online at the website: macreedistrict.com

Meanwhile, the Cascade Youth Basketball League is taking signups for kids in fifth- through eighth-grades. More information is available on the Madras youth basketball Facebook page, or by calling Tony Holliday at 541-460-0675.
