

New sheriff's enforcement boats have tribal names

Papalaxsimisha and youth with the Madras High School Native American Student Union last week officially named the three new boats for the Jefferson County Sheriffs Department.

The youth came up with the names Liixli (Ichishkeen, hawk), Igumat (Wasco, salmon), and Patuhudya school and Sheriff's Office. Wasco Chief Jefferson Greene was on hand. He said of the Sheriff's Office participation: "It was enlightening to see our long-standing relationship becoming a friendship."

Students of the Papalaxsimisha Native American Student Union were among those on hand. Pictured here: Matthew Smith, Jillisa Suppah, Arema White, Kayliani Estimo, and Sheriff Pollock.

Drummers perform during boat naming ceremony.

Range & Ag
Grazing Group Meeting
Simnasho Longhouse
October 8, 2024
6:00pm-8:00pm

Salmon restoration: tribes, agencies to work on common goal

(from page 1)
Tribal Council Chairman Smith continues:
"We look forward to continued collaboration with the State on that front as we also develop and grow our leadership as a socially just energy leader.

"Our co-ownership with PGE of the Pelton Round Butte project, on the Deschutes River, a tributary to the Columbia River, has allowed our people to engage in the long-term work to manage dams and fisheries in ways that not only preserve, but enhance, our sovereign environmental, cultural and economic interests.
"Our leadership in this space is helping the state meet the energy needs of popula-

WHEN IT COMES TO SAVING MONEY,
YOUR HOME HAS A LOT TO SAY.

When you take the free Online Home Energy Assessment, you're allowing your home to speak up about ways to save energy and money. Plus, we have lots of incentives that can save you even more - including smart thermostats, insulation and even air purifiers.

+
TAKE THE ONLINE HOME
ENERGY ASSESSMENT
To learn more, visit www.energytrust.org/assessment

