

FROM THE COUNCIL

VOICES FROM THE PAST

As you can see, two of our tribal leaders are in Washington D.C. working on behalf of each and every tribal member to begin educating the aides and Congressional people we will be working with when the final draft of our Bill is completed. Speaking for members of the staff here, we wish to take this opportunity to let Marv and Merle know that we are honored to have them represent their people as they journey so far from home. We realize their job is a difficult one and have total confidence that they will be strong and make the right decisions as the contacts are made with those who we rely so much on for support in Washington D.C.. Too often we take people in Marv and Merle's position for granted and neglect to give them the recognition they deserve. Marv and Merle, as you work for your people only two in body in Washington, know you have the support of many. Thank you both.
