BASKETBALL CLINIC

First District Congressman Les AuCoin is inviting teenage boys and girls interested in learning the fine art of give-and go, the outlet pass, rebounding and free-throw shooting to a free basketball clinic in July at Linfield College.

AuCoin said the one-day clinic will feature Portland Trailblazer Coach Rick Adelman, and Linfield Men's coach Tim Miller. Two Trailblazer players are also tentatively scheduled to attend.

This, the third annual AuCoin/Trailblazer clinic will be held on Saturday, July 18th, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Riley Gym on the Linfield College Campus. Boys and girls in the 9th, 10th and 11th grades are eligible to sign up.

There will be a limit of 70 players for the clinic, with reservations accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Interested youths should contact Bernie Bottomly or Rebecca Bragg in AuCoin's Portland office at 221-2901 or toll-free 1-800-422-4003 to sign up.

"There'll be drills to help the kids improve their individual and team-play skills, and they'll have the chance to talk basketball with an NBA coach and players," AuCoin said.

The first district lawmaker has had a keen interest in basketball since his high-school days, when he was a starting forward at Redmond High School and was named to the 1960 high school all-star basketball team.

Carmen Haug is resigning after 2 years as Tribal Council Secretary. Carmen plans to go to school and study Public Administration and Business. On right is Pam May, an addition to the Accounting department.

CEMETERY DECORATIONS

If you would like to save the decorations placed on the graves for Memorial day, please pick them up by June 13, 1987. If they are not picked up, the tribal cemetery keepers will pick them up and save them to put on undecorated graves next year. The decorations are picked up so the cemetery grounds can be mowed and kept up.
