FINANCIAL AID DEAD-LINE COMING SOON!

Students who plan on attending school next school year, Fall Term 1989-1990, the Financial Aid Form (FAF's) for 1989-1990 will be available for processing after January 1, 1989. Please have your FAF filed no later than January 31, 1989.

Because of the high number of applicants and limited funding, if you are attending school this year (1988-89) and fail to complete the FAF by January 30th, we will only consider providing tuition, books and fees for the 1989-1990 school year.

This year, the Higher Education Program received a number of applications from returning students who did not file the FAF until two weeks prior to the start of Fall Term.

Because of these problems, and students not assuming this responsibility in a timely manner, we will no longer provide financial assistance to overcome the high need that is not addressed by campus-based aid, generated by students' failure to complete the FAF for maximum campus-based aid.

File your FAF no later than January 31, 1989.

SCHEDULE OF OREGON COLLEGE VISITATION & PREVIEW DAYS

The college visitation days give individual students and families the opportunity to find out what the college environment is all about. Sessions are usually held on student services, housing, admissions and financial aid and include a tour of the campus.

Be sure to call ahead and register to attend these activities and to confirm dates and meeting locations.

ATTENTION: JOURNALISM FRESHMEN...

The American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) sponsors the Project Focus program. Students who are selected to participate get jobs with their hometown or nearby newspaper during the summer between their freshman and sophomore year. The positions will be in the newsrooms as clerks, messengers, assistants to reporters, researchers, library assistants, etc. Salaries will be minimum wage (3.35 per hour) or greater. Students who successfully complete the Project Focus program will receive a $300.00 bonus from ASNE.

& JUNIORS AND SENIORS:

ASNE sponsors 13 conferences/job fairs around the nation. The conferences are designed to bring editors who want to hire together with students who are seeking summer internships and full-time jobs in newsrooms. The 1988-89 job fairs are being held between Oct. 1988 and February 1989 in Columbia, Mo, Neptune, N.J., New Orleans, Spokane, WA Winston Salem, N.C.

For more information about the conference/job fair or applications on all programs, contact Mireille Grangenois Gates, Minority Affairs Director, ASNE, P.O. Box 17004, Washington, DC 20041 (703) 648-1146.

BOOKLET HIGHLIGHTS JOURNALISM CAREERS

A good recruiting tool for native journalists is NEWS-PAPER: WHAT'S IN IT FOR ME? This booklet offers personal accounts by minority journalists and others, who highlight their careers in various newspaper departments. The booklet, which is aimed at high school and college students, can be obtained from Newspaper Careers Project, ANPA Foundation, Box 17407 Dulles Airport, Washington, D.C. 20041. Single copies are free. Prices for multiple copies are as follows: 2 to 50, $2 each; 51 to 199, $1.50 each; 200 or more, $1.00 each.

Annual Native American Press Conference Set

The Native American Press Association has scheduled it's fifth Annual Journalism and Education conference for March 2-4. 1989, at the Sheraton-Kensington in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The conference will include workshops and speakers in print and broadcast journalism. The theme, "The Indian Journalist: Keeping Tradition Alive," will focus on increasing and improving journalism skills for native journalists.

At their annual conference, NAPA will award $3,000 in educational scholarships to Indian high school and college students. To become eligible for the scholarship, students must carry a 2.5 grade point average or better and submit a certificate of degree of Indian blood; official transcript; letter of recommendation; and writing samples or photography samples.

Deadline for consideration is Feb. 1, 1989. Applications should be mailed to NAPA, Scholarship Committee, P.O. Box 1734, Boulder, CO 80306.
