

Ivanetta Cook is one of the Tribes' most enjoyable elders.

IVANETTA COOK

By Michael Childers

Warmhearted and generous Ivanetta Cook, who is also an enrolled Tribal Member is being acknowledged this month for being an outstanding elder in our Tribe.

Born and raised here in Grand Ronde, this is where Ivanetta chose to live and start her family that now consists of her husband, Howard Cook of 46 years and their 6 children who are, from oldest to youngest, Tom, who lives in Grant's Pass and has three children, Lynn, who lives in VanCouver and has two children, Pat, who lives in Tacoma, Washington and has two children, Mike, who lives in Brookings with his two children, Mark, (who is Mike's twin) now lives with his parents here in Grand Ronde and the youngest of the six children is Pam, who also lives in Brookings. So, as you can see, Ivanetta was always a busy little lady and her calendar was always full, but now with her children all grown and lives of their own, Ivanetta is still a busy little elder with her calendar always full of various activities that range from sewing clothes and regalia to craft making at the Tribal Office. She is also involved in many Committees here at the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde.

Ivanetta says she has a real good life here in Grand Ronde with her family and friends but one thing she says she'd like to see is, "Better communication between Tribal Members, people need to take their questions to the source of their concerns and not behind the barn."

We are all proud of you, Ivanetta! Congratulations!!

CEMETERY COMMITTEE

The Cemetery Committee would just like to take the time out and let you know we are doing our jobs taking care of the Burial and Cemetery grounds and putting a new roof on.

We also would like to send a special thank-you to "Biff" Allan Langley for all the support and understanding he gave us.

Cemetery Committee,

Chairman Russ Leno
and

Secretary Wilmadene Butler
