

Summer Jobs, Internships and Cooperative Education Opportunities

BONNEVILLE POWER ADMINISTRATION

SUMMER JOBS/INTERNSHIPS: Physical science aides, Mathematics aids, Engineering aides, and Computer aides. Grades GS 3/4.

REQUIRED PREREQUISITES: U.S. Citizenship. Currently enrolled college students and graduate students. Priority is given to students with a superior academic record. Include any pertinent awards and honors with application forms.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS AND INFORMATION: April 15, 1990

CONTACT FOR APPLICATIONS:
William E. Kendrick, Chief of Recruitment
Bonneville Power Administration - Personnel - SPOF
P.O. Box 3621 - Portland, OR. 97208

Job Announcement:

FOREST TECHNICIAN (TEMPORARY)

WAGE: $7.23 - $9.63 Per hour - 40 hours per week

SUPERVISOR: Cliff Adams, Tribal Forester

LENGTH: 5 1/2 months

CLOSING DATE: March 15, 1990

QUALIFICATIONS:

- To qualify as a Forest Technician candidates must have an Associate Degree in Forest Technology or 5 years experience in related Forest Technology work.
- Must have reliable transportation, a valid drivers license, as well as a good driving record.
- Must be in good physical condition, be able to ascend and descend steep slopes.

DUTIES:

- To assist the Forestry Staff in sale preparation and layout. This will include posting, traversing, road and setting layout, cruising and gathering technical data.

This position is not eligible for Annual Leave, Sick Leave, Health Insurance, Life insurance or Retirement benefits.

Tribal/Indian Preference will apply.

SEND RESUME TO:

CONFEDERATED TRIBES OF GRAND RONDE
P.O. BOX 38
GRAND RONDE, OREGON 97347
ATTN: CLIFF ADAMS, TRIBAL FORESTER

The new Fish and Wildlife secretary Karen Lord is surprised by the camera during her first day on the job.

Deadline for Director Applicants is March 31st

WASHINGTON - A nationwide search is underway for the first director of the new National Museum of the American Indian created by Congress in November of last year.

The museum will be dedicated to the study and interpretation of American Indian history, culture and arts. Its centerpiece will be the collection of more than one million artifacts in New York City's Museum of the American Indian of the Heye Foundation which began to be transferred to the Smithsonian Institution here on Feb. 4.

Deadline for applications for director is Mar. 31. In a wide and open search, the 16-member selection committee, named in November 1989, will give preference to Indian candidates in nominating a director.

Smithsonian Secretary Robert McCormack Adams said a search committee is looking for "a strong director, with leadership, vision and sensitivity to the special character of a cultural facility that will be at once closely tied to Native American communities and yet international in the scope of its audience."

Among the first tasks of the director will be to recruit a talented staff and to develop policies for responsive and innovative public and scholarly programming for the museum. The director must assure that the relocation of the collections from New York to Washington, as well as their future care and use as a central resource of the museum, are consistent with the highest professional standards.

In the initial phase of the museum's development, the director will oversee the planning and construction of the museum building itself, which will be located on the National Mall, and an adjunct storage and study center.

The renovation of an exhibition facility in the Old U.S. Custom House in lower Manhattan will also be the responsibility of the director.

In addition to these responsibilities, the search committee's guidelines state that the director "must be sensitive to the unique relationship between native American communities and the national Museum of the American Indian."

The museum will hold cultural materials of great historical and contemporary significance to modern American Indians that represent a valuable resource to Indians and their communities in their day-to-day lives.

The Smithsonian announcement of its search for the new director included requirements in administration and management, experience in programs and development, and capabilities in outreach to American Indian and Alaska Native communities.

Potential candidates were asked to contact Maureen Robinson, Special Assistant for Recruitment, SI 302, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560.

- Courtesy of Yakima Nation Review

Job Announcement:

POSITION DESCRIPTION

POSITION TITLE: Family Nurse Practitioner/Community Health Nurse

CLOSING DATE: March 15, 1990

LOCATION: Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde
P.O. Box 38

Grand Ronde, Oregon 97347

ATTN: General Manager

RESPONSIBILITIES:

This position performs professional community health nursing and an expanded practice in a specialty role as Family Nurse Practitioner to provide a limited scope of primary care for the tribal population.

1. Will provide screening, health prevention and education and primary care clinics.
2. Will conduct assessment of the Health Practices of the tribal population.
3. Implement health planning based on individual and family care plans and community profiles.
4. Provide training and coordination for health paraprofessionals.
5. Evaluate impact of health activities on the individual, family and communities.
6. Will conduct home visits on all referrals from health providers and will follow-up on all hospital discharges.
7. Will implement all elements of community health nursing.
8. Record and maintain all patient visits in proper format.
9. Develop protocol for paraprofessional health staff.
10. Develop prevention and education presentation for the membership and promote disease prevention activities.
11. Maintain rosters of at-risk members for care planning.
12. Other duties as assigned.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1. A minimum of a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from a National League of Nursing approved program. Completion of one year of public health or community health nursing. Family Nurse Practitioner who is licensed in the State of Oregon to practice, and has drug prescribing authority.
2. Must be willing to travel.
3. Valid Oregon Driver's License and reliable transportation.
4. Knowledge of Indian communities.
5. Indian Preference is applied, if claiming please send your tribal identification or BIA certificate of Indian blood with resume.
6. Send resumes, copies of degrees, nursing license (s), and other qualifying documentation to the above address.

SALARY RANGE: $33,000 to $37,000 annually, full time position.

