SMDC Tourism Meeting

The Spirit Mountain Development Corporation held a tourism meeting on Thursday, September 17, but no one attended. The meeting was to present ideas currently under consideration by the corporation in the area of tourism and field suggestions from the community.

The lack of attendance at the meeting will not deter us from listening to your ideas. If you have any suggestions on the subject or would like to hear our views, feel free to contact us. Stop by and see us at tribal headquarters. Ask for Beth, Chris, or Tammy. We are very interested in your opinions.

Elders' Workshop Helps Answer Questions

On September 8th three representatives from the legal community spoke at the Elders' Will Workshop, held at the Senior Mealsite. Meg Goldberg, from Oregon Legal Services, Ron Talmey, from Marion/Polk Legal Aid Service, Inc., and George Rives, a retired attorney who volunteers his time working for OLS. All answered questions and spoke about the importance of having a will. For example, if a person doesn't have a will, usually the next of kin receives all property after that person passes away. A will is a good idea for people who want certain things to go to certain people.

It is also a good idea to have a will so there is no confusion to anyone about how you want your property handled. There are many technicalities, but each one is important when facing the decision to allocate your possessions. For instance, do you have a large estate or a small one? Do you want to divide your property among all your children? How much real property do you have? (Home, land.) How much personal property do you have? (Vehicles, jewelry, etc.)

All of these things factor into your will. It may not seem important, but it is. Said Mr. Rives, "A will is a good idea for anyone, even if you don't think you own that much. Most people own more than they think."

For those elders who were unable to attend the workshop and are interested in obtaining legal services, keep in mind that it is FREE, and there is an attorney in your area who is willing to answer your questions. Marion/Polk Legal Aid Services serves Marion and Polk Counties, and Oregon Legal Services is based in McMinnville and serves Yamhill County. There are services available in your area as well. Contact the legal services organization in your local phone book, or contact the county you live in.

A photograph exchange has been established, and is available to all tribal members. The purpose of the program is to preserve tribal history through the sharing of old family/tribal photographs. Also, as a service, the program will attempt to identify subjects in old photographs through the efforts of Elders and other resources within our community. You need not share photos to obtain this service.

Eventually, we hope to tell the history of Grand Ronde through photographs selected from this exchange. To encourage people to participate in this program, we will not only trade NEGATIVES of the photos, but if your photo is used in the historic display your name will accompany it.

If you would like to participate in this exciting new program, send your negative(s) along with a self-addressed envelope to:

Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde
ATTENTION: Dean Azule
9615 Grand Ronde Rd.
Grand Ronde, Oregon 97347

If known, you should also include the date of the picture, names of individual(s) in the photo, and other information surrounding the event. In return, you will receive a list of available photographs. From this list, you may select one negative for each negative you mailed in. You should receive your negatives in approximately 30 days. If you would like more information regarding the Photo Exchange, contact June Olson at 1-800-422-0232. Again, this is an exchange of negatives only. Do not send your original photograph.
