

Want to change your life? Complete your GED!

Missed a few classes?

It's not too late to start GED classes. Many programs offer open enrollment for most of the term. So, if you're wanting to complete your GED requirements, now is a good time to start or (re-start). Call your local community college or our Tribal Adult Education program for more information.

We would like to add that it is the policy of the Adult Education Program to encourage high school students to stay in school. While the GED program answers a need for many people, it is a challenging, self-paced program which requires 12th grade reading and math skills to pass the five tests. Students who drop out of school thinking a GED is a quick degree are often surprised at the level of commitment and study they must make in order to earn their GED certificate.

That High School Diploma or GED Certificate is a valuable possession and also gives you an advantage in the job market. Many employers, including Spirit Mountain Casino, require High School or GED certification to get or remain employed. Help stack the deck in your favor, stay in school. If that is no longer a possibility, start working toward your GED. The rewards are truly yours. Sponsored in partnership with Chemeketa Community College, classes are offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Education Training Building in Grand Ronde. JoAnn Leathers is the instructor.

Education plans campus visitation for enrolled students

Parents, Students and Educators are invited to the Oregon State University's Native American Longhouse Annual Tribal College Visitation days. There will be two separate visitations throughout Fall Term 1996 in which you may wish to participate: November 7 and 21.

The Tribal Visitation will include lunch, campus tours, workshops, and presentations. In order to provide food and possibly housing, we need to know in advance how many students and parents will be attending. Please respond by October 23 for the first session (Nov. 7); and by November 6 for the second session (Nov. 21). Make arrangements by calling (541) 737-2738. Marion Mercier will be attending the November 7 session and welcomes students to attend that day with her. Contact Marion at the Tribal Education Office for more information.

The visitation areas that have tentatively been scheduled so far are:

November 7: Oregon State University

November 12 & 13: Lane Community College, University of Oregon

December 4 & 5: Portland area colleges and universities

January 9: Tillamook Bay Community College

February 13 & 14: Western Oregon State College, Linn Benton Community College

If you attend one of these colleges or plan to attend school in the near future please call Marion at 1-800-422-0232 or 879-2284 to schedule to meet.
