Housing article correction

The July 1 article on the Tribe's housing programs contained an error which has caused some misunderstanding with readers.

The article stated that the Elder community "will house tribal Elders with low to moderate income (between $25,400-$29,000) for about 30 percent of their annual income."

This statement is true, except for the income range. It should have read "maximum annual income for one person is $25,400, and maximum annual income for two people is $29,400."

Some Elders believed that they had to have an income of at least $25,400 to qualify for "low-income" which seemed ridiculous! We apologize for the misunderstanding.

Note: The Elders' Housing Project is currently underway, but has fallen behind schedule due in part to complications with the Water Association.

GRAND RONDE GATHERING, around 1890

DO YOU KNOW WHO THESE PEOPLE ARE? We need your help in identifying these folks. The gentleman standing at the far left is Dave Leno, Grand Ronde Police Officer, 1890-1894. Standing second from the right is Frank Quenelle, first Grand Ronde Sheriff, 1884-1895. The Tribe's Cultural Resource Protection Department is very interested in identifying the rest of these people. If you have any information or family photos that may be of help, please call Lindy Trolan at 879-2248 or 1-800-422-0232; or stop by her office.
