Women complete "Venture Out" program

On June 26, individuals who completed the Oregon Native American Business and Entrepreneur Network (ONABEN) "Venture Out" course gathered for a celebration and to receive their Certificates of Participation.

Venture Out is funded by the Small Business Administration's Office of Women's Business Ownership (OWBO). The class is designed to help women who are interested in operating a home-based business to supplement their family income and learn what it takes to accomplish this.

This course can be offered again next year for those interested in attending. Please contact Sheila Herber at 879-2492 or Barbara Lake at 879-2476 and let us know if you would like to participate or would like additional information.

Starting a Successful Business series

The Tribe's Small Business Development Department will be offering a Fall session of the Starting a Successful Business class. The classes will begin Tuesday, September 12 and will run each Tuesday thereafter through November 28.

This course is designed to take participants through the business planning process. A business plan is required by lenders and is also a good tool to map out your business for success. Anyone interested in participating in this session, please contact Small Business at 879-2476.

Law Internship for students of color

The INROADS Law Internship Program is designed to encourage greater technical excellence and academic preparation for students of color in the field of law. Students will have a paid internship with a law firm during their last summers of college and on into law school. The ultimate goal is to place the student with the firm. The intern would be obligated to work for two years with the sponsoring firm upon graduation from law school.

QUALIFICATIONS: At least a 3.0 grade point average, planning to enter law school in 2000 or 2001. African American, Asian American, Latino or Native American students. Apply on-line to INROADS/Portland at www.inroadsinc.org or contact Ellecia Williams at (503)281-0825.

"Let's work on strengthening our Chinuk-wawa (Jargon)."

Another multi level three-credit class in chinuk-wawa will be offered in September. It will be conducted by the Tribe's Language Program and sponsored by the University of Oregon. The ten-week course will begin September 25, and will be held on Monday nights from 6pm - 9pm in the Tribal Governance Center. Individuals interested in applying for this class should contact the Tribe's Language Specialist, Tony Johnson, by phone (503-879-2084) or email (tony.johnson@grandronde.org).

3rd Annual Chinuk-wawa Workshop

in Grand Ronde

Kanamak^wst nəsayka wawa

WHERE: Grand Ronde, Oregon
WHEN: August 25 thru 27
RATES: $ 35.00 per attendee — covers workshop materials and a Saturday night banquet.

The Language Program of the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde will again be hosting the 3rd Annual Chinuk-Wawa Workshop in Grand Ronde.

Featured at the workshop will be both opportunities to increase your abilities with spoken Chinuk, and presentations related to a variety of linguistic and historical aspects of Chinuk-wawa.

Come and find out why Chinuk is so important to the Grand Ronde community, learn more about its Native origin, and help to prevent this important shared language from dying out. Don't forget to ask about the Chinuk writing contest ($150 first prize). Tuition will be paid for the first ten Tribal members to sign up.

Details are available from the Tribe's Language Program
