

Yamhill County Fair & Rodeo July 19-22

Country music artist Darryl Worley will play the Yamhill County Fair and Rodeo on Saturday, July 21 at 9 p.m.

Worley's second single from his debut album "Hard Rain Don't Last" is currently on the Country Music Television top 20 video countdown. The single, "A Good Day to Run" has also made the Billboard country music charts. Worley's music is upbeat, traditional country music that utilizes fiddles and steel guitars and reflects the musical influence of one of his music idols, Merle Haggard.

Admission to show is included in the $6 general admission to this year's Fair and Rodeo. The Yamhill County Fair has changed its dates from August to July to be able to hold an NPRA rodeo during the Fair. The Fair will run from July 19-22 with the rodeo scheduled on from July 20-22. Check out their website at www.yamhillcountyfair.com.

My Indian Name is "Thunder Bear," my story is alive.

Robert Tree Cody (Thunder Bear), age 50, Musician, Composer, Pima/Maricopa, knows the importance of keeping the story alive. He is one of the many people the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian can call friend and supporter. He knows that he is helping to preserve the rich culture of his people. Preservation for generations. He knows that someday his great-granddaughter will thank him.

The stories are about me and they are about you.

The NMAI is working to make sure that the tradition is continued. The museum in collaboration with Native peoples is dedicated to the preservation, study, and exhibition of the life, languages, history, and arts of the Americas. Currently the NMAI is building a museum in Washington, D.C., next to the U.S. Capitol, where these powerful stories will be kept alive.
