MILL-LUCK SALMON CELEBRATION ANNOUNCED

Experience Coquille Native American Culture September 10-11

Mark your calendars for Friday and Saturday, September 10-11, when The Mill Casino Hotel will be the venue for the first Annual Mill-Luck Salmon Celebration, sharing the culture and traditions of the Coquille Indians and other Pacific Northwest Tribes with residents and visitors to Oregon’s Bay Area.

The festivities begin at 7:30 p.m. on Friday evening, with a Native American music performance by the R. Carlos Nakai Quartet in The Mill Casino’s Salmon Room. R. Carlos Nakai has used the traditional Native American flute in exciting new musical settings creating a new genre that has found widespread popularity. With the R. Carlos Nakai Quartet, Nakai continues this musical experiment by joining the haunting sound of the cedar flute with sax, bass, keyboards, drums and female vocals. Tickets go on sale July 12, 2004 in The Mill’s General Store, or charge by phone by calling 1-800-953-4800 or 541-756-8800.

On Saturday, September 11, the vendors’ marketplace opens at 10 a.m., with Native artisans from across the Pacific Northwest offering handcrafted items. Performances of drumming, dance and music will continue throughout the day, as will cultural displays. Canoe races will periodically take place on Coos Bay alongside demonstrations of traditional canoe carving methods. Children will have an opportunity to learn traditional Native American games and crafts.

The highlight of the event will be a Salmon Bake, with salmon cooked in a traditional Coquille open-pit.

“We always look for opportunities to share our culture with the broader Coos Bay/North Bend community,” said Tribal Chairman Ed Metcalf. “We hope to see many of our friends and neighbors at this celebration of our Coquille traditions.”

Located directly on the Highway 101 waterfront of scenic Coos Bay, The Mill Casino Hotel is a favorite destination for Bay Area residents and one of the premier attractions on Oregon’s South Coast. Its mix of Nevada-style casino games, dining options for every palate, and distinctive accommodations offers something for everyone. Schedules of current and upcoming events are available throughout the casino or on their web site, www.themillcasino.com.

The scheduled day for vendors will be Saturday, September 11, 2004 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. If interested, your booth should be reserved as soon as possible due to the limited amount of available space.

Please contact Anati Pierce at The Mill Casino Hotel at 541-756-8800 ext.420 for a vendor application packet.

The application deadline is August 11, 2004. We hope that you can join us for this exciting event!
