

Tribal Youth Take Ski And Snowboarding Trip

Photo by Lori Greenberg

Photo by Tony Johnson

Recreation — About 30 Tribal youth attended the ski and snowboard trip organized by the Tribe's Recreation Coordinator, Lori Greenberg, earlier this year. Tribal member Corey Bradley catches some air while Tribal members Kim Contreras and Izzy Atanacio (inset) wait in the Buttercup lift line.

Fry Bread And Indian Tacos

Photos by Toby McClary

Family — Tribal members Claudia Leno and Nelda Bynan (right) prepare fry bread and Indian tacos for lunch at the Community Center. Tribal members Angie Fasana and Dana Ainam, above, share a smile while waiting patiently for their Indian tacos.

Culture Committee Meets

Photo by Toby McClary

Tribal Life — After the Committee Summit on Monday, March 14, members of the Culture Committee gathered to discuss cultural matters. Also, the committee invited members from the Metro District of Portland to discuss the design of a monument being built at Blue Lake honoring the Native people that used to live there.

Kung-Fu Classes Taught At The Tribe

Photo by Marty George

Focused — Physical Medicine's Acupuncturist and Kung-Fu Instructor Dale Freeman teaches young Noel Bryant some self-defense moves. Kung-Fu class is offered Monday nights 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the Tribe's Gymnasium. For more information contact Dena Freeman at 503-879-4585.

Photo by Toby McClary

"Who Moved My Cheese?" — On Wednesday, March 16, the Training Team from Spirit Mountain Casino held a supervisor's workshop in the Adult Education building titled "Who Moved My Cheese?" The workshop dealt with learning to effectively manage change, how to help your team navigate change and having change work to your advantage.