

Grand Ronde Pow-wow in motion

Photos by
Toby McClary

Plummie Wright/Klamath

Friday Night Lights — On the evening of Friday, August 18, both women and men's fancy dancers were given the opportunity to flash their talents and colors to the many people in attendance. The "Fancy Dance" also known as the "Feather Dance" is one of the most popular styles of dance and regalia seen at modern pow-wows.

LyDall Yazzie/Dine

Spin Move — For women, the style of dance is known as the Ladies Fancy Shawl and is one of the newest forms of women's dance. This is very similar in dancing and the bright colors to the Men's Fancy Dance. The ladies wear their shawls over their shoulders, and dance by jumping and spinning around, keeping time with the music.

Plummie Wright/Klamath

