On Tuesday, July 24, Tribal Elder and art instructor Richard Fenwick works with Tribal member Shauna Scott on a mural at the youth education building. A group of Tribal youth have been working on the mural twice a week for two hours a day since the beginning of July. They have learned new painting techniques and are exploring their artistic side with Fenwick. The mural is an art project of the Summer Enrichment Program and will be on display at the Youth Education building through the summer.

Grand Ronde Royalty Fundraisers

The Grand Ronde Royalty contestants are raising money to help supplement the cost of attending pow-wows and special events during their 2007-2008 reign. The purpose of these trips are to allow the girls to interact with other Native people, experience a variety of Tribal cultures and customs, and represent the Grand Ronde Tribe at large venues that include many different Tribal Nations.

God Please Hear Me

Dear God. They say only the good die young?
Is this true?

If so, I'm ready to be in Heaven with you.

Lord, I pray you'll take my pain away one day.

I need you in my heart,
my life, and soul.

Whenever you are ready,
just take control.

When it's my time,
just free my soul.

I ain't scared to die cause I know

THERE'S A BETTER PLACE THAN HERE.

Lord, when it's my time,
please take me there.

Dear God, I know a lot of people
won't understand
until they get to the Holy Land.

But Dear Lord, I will hold
on to your hand
and follow every step
that you have planned.

Father, this I'm sure,
you already know.

BUT WHENEVER YOU NEED ME,
I'M READY TO GO.
