George Fox University online/hybrid program

George Fox University is planning to launch a Management and Organizational Leadership hybrid bachelor's degree-completion program which is set to begin January 2010. The hybrid program only requires three on-campus weekends (Fri. / Sat.) at the Portland campus with the rest of the 16-month program being online. This program will meet the needs of students who find it difficult to attend classes. You can discover more about the hybrid at www.georgefox.edu/sps/undergrad/online-mol.html.

For those that prefer face to face we offer Management and Organizational Leadership/Social & Behavioral Sciences/Management & Business Information Systems classes beginning in January as well. Application deadline for January is Monday, Nov. 23.

For more information, contact Jeremy Stephens, Admissions Recruiter, 503-554-6168.

Marine Science Internships in Oregon — Summer 2010

If you are considering graduate study or just a professional career in the marine sciences, developing research skills through hands-on experience is one of the most valuable learning opportunities you can have.

The Research Experience for Undergraduates program runs from June 14-Aug. 20, 2010, at the Hatfield Marine Science Center in Newport and at the College of Oceanic and Atmospheric Sciences in Corvallis.

Apply by Feb. 15, 2010.

Interns receive a weekly stipend, housing on-site and round-trip transportation from their home area.
