

Tribal Elder Julie Duncan does some weeding as she works in a garden area at the Elders' Activity Center on Thursday, April 22.

Tribal Elder Joann Colton-Comeaux plants hyacinth bulbs in a garden area at the Elders' Activity Center on Thursday, April 22. A group of Elders worked on the garden areas around the building in honor of Earth Day. The bulbs were once planted at Spirit Mountain Casino and the Elders replanted them.

EARTH DAY

Tribal members, from left, Aleena Westley, Mason Mercier and Audrey Mercier decorate reusable canvas bags during an Earth Day activity in the Tribal Chinuk kindergarten class on Thursday, April 22. The youth gave the bags to their parents to use when they go shopping instead of using plastic bags.

From left, Tribal Council Senior Administrative Assistant Lauri Smith, Public Affairs Director Siobhan Taylor, Tribal member and Education Division Manager April Campbell, Tribal member and Cultural Resources Department Manager David Lewis and Tribal Engineer Eric Scott look over recycling information that Katie King, a marketing administrator for Western Oregon Waste, brought to the Tribe's Earth Day Celebration in the Governance Center Atrium on Thursday, April 22.

Tribal employees watch the premiere presentation of the Natural Resources Division video "Restoring the Land" during the Tribe's Earth Day Celebration.

Photos by Michelle Alaimo