

Tribal Elders Arlettia Krehbiel, left, and Cherie Butler dance during the Elders Halloween Party at the Elders' Activity Center on Friday, Oct. 28. Butler was not aware that it was Krehbiel under that mask as she was grabbed to dance.

The Oregon Duck, aka Tribal Elder Marilee Norwest-Davis, signs in as the Oregon State Beaver, aka Marcella Selwyn, waits to also sign in at the Elders Halloween Party at the Elders' Activity Center on Friday, Oct. 28. The two, who are sisters, made their Halloween costumes.

Photos by Michelle Alaimo

Halloween celebrated around the Tribe

Tribal member Kailiyah Krehbiel picks up a ball to bowl a frame during the Education Division's annual Halloween bowling party and costume contest at Walnut City Lanes in McMinnville on Monday, Oct. 31. Her Bride of Frankenstein costume won first place for K5 girls in the costume contest.

Tribal members Makenzie Aaron, left, and Tiffany Tonso high-five each other after Tonso took first place for high school girls in the costume contest during the Education Division's annual Halloween bowling party and costume contest at Walnut City Lanes in McMinnville on Monday, Oct. 31.

Photo by Dean Rhodes

Tribal descendant Keylie Redhawk, 4, works on creating a Halloween cookie with candy corn during the Halloween Party held for Preschool/Head Start youth in the Tribal gym on Monday, Oct. 31. In addition to making cookies, Tribal children were able to have their face painted, participate in a bean toss contest, fish for prizes and enter a coloring contest.