

Working for a living

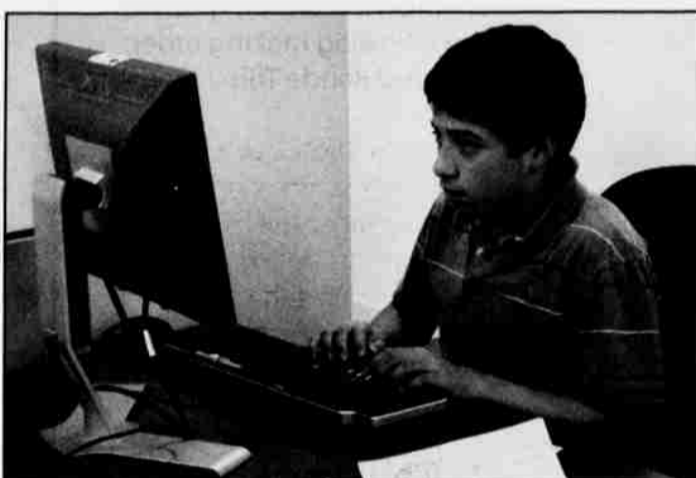

Summer Youth Employee Shane Thomas helps load trailer ramps during his time working for the Grand Ronde Tribal Housing Authority.

Summer Youth employee Leonard Logan plays with the K-5 youth before lunch while working for the Education Department.

Summer Youth employee Josh Biery organizes papers while working for the Tribe's Adult Education Department this summer.

Summer Youth employee Michael Reyes works on a document in the Tribe's Economic Development Department during his employment.

Summer Youth employee Dakota Rock washes dishes in the K-5 kitchen after lunch during his employment with Youth Education.

Summer Youth employee Laurisa Logan files documents in the front office of the K-5 program during her employment with the Tribe.

Summer Youth employee Logan Bobb helps sort folders in the Tribal Community Center while he worked for the Tribe's Prevention program.

Summer Youth employee Caden Leno helps set the table for lunch in the K-5 program while he worked this summer for Early Childhood Education.

Summer Youth employee Chyanne Schlappie worked at the front desk of the Tribe's Natural Resources Department during her employment.

Photos by Grayson Winters
Summer Youth employee

Summer Youth employee Kiana Leno scans and archives old photos during her assignment with the Tribe's Cultural Resources Department.

