

Gobble ball

The 10th annual Turkey Bowling competition took place in front of the Governance Center on Thursday, Nov. 21. More than 80 employees attended the event with 47 employees participating. In the women's division, Kari Culp, Tribal Community Health Program manager, took first place; Nicole Teeter, Tribal accounts payable specialist, took second; and Amber Yates, patient registration at the Grand Ronde Health and Wellness Clinic, placed third. In the men's division, Jeremy Galloway, a Tribal maintenance technician, took first place; Jim Holmes, Tribal Risk and Insurance administrator, took second; and Josh Clift, Tribal Associate Vocational Program & Noncredit Program coordinator, placed third. Gas cards value at $75, $50 and $25 were awarded for first, second and third place, respectively.
