

Family Tutoring Nights slated

Family Tutoring Nights are being held from 5 to 7 p.m. Monday, May 4 and 11, in the Youth Education K-12 building, 9615 Grand Ronde Road.

Activities will include a healthy family dinner, Computer Lab access, tutorial assistance, homework support, cultural crafts, literacy skills building and prizes.

Free transportation is being offered to Native American youth and their parents who live in the Willamina and Grand Ronde area. Contact Youth Education at 503-879-2040 before 4 p.m. the day of the event if you need transportation. For more information, contact Cristina Lara at 503-879-2040. ■

Meet & Greet

Tribal Medical Receptionist Jamie Adams speaks during a Meet & Greet that the Tribe's Social Services and Health committees held on Monday, April 27, at the Elders Activity Center so that Tribal members could meet health care providers and members of the Sexual Assault Response Resource Circle. About 50 people attended the event, which included a Mexican-style lunch provided by Nutrition Program staff. Land & Culture Department employees Brian Krehbiel and Travis Stewart performed the cultural drumming to open the meeting. The Meet & Greet was another in a series of events the Health and Wellness Clinic is participating in to better connect with the community. Also in attendance were Health Services Executive Director Jeff Lorenz and Medical Director Dr. Lance Loberg.
